Ford picnic set for Aug. 6

One of the biggest crowd-raisers in Western Wayne County will be repeated for the 13th year on August 6, when friends of Congressman Bill Ford gather for his annual Birthday Picnic in Huron Township.

Billed as an "Old Fashioned, Country-Style Picnic," the outing traditionally draws a crowd of 6,000 to 8,000 persons, who are treated to hot dogs and beer, kielbasa and corn-on-the-cob, popcorn and soft drinks, and an afternoon of games, contests, dancing and politicking.

Congressman Ford, who represents the 15th Congressional District in Washington, considers the annual picnic one of the highlights of his year.

The annual outing is sponsored by a committee of Congressman Ford's friends who spend many weeks preparing for the event — ordering food and drinks, assigning work projects for the afternoon, scheduling the various events, and making other necessary arrangements.

The picnic is open to any resident of the 15th District. A charge of $7 per car is assessed, with a maximum of seven passengers. An additional fee of $1 is charged for extra passengers over seven years of age.

Once in the park, there are no other charges. The balance of the expenses are covered through advertisements in a program book.

The picnic is held in New Liberty Park, on Bredow Road between Inkster Road and Middlebelt Road, beginning at noon and ending at 6 p.m.

Primary time: 3 for mayor, 23 bump heads for Council

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer
With one City Council candidate disqualified because of too few valid petition signatures, some 23 others geared up for the Sept. 12 primary election.

Edward Thomas, Jr. was notified he was disqualified because he had only 99 valid signatures instead of the required 100.

Fourteen will survive the primary and vie for the seven seats on the council in the Nov. 8 general election.

In the mayor's race, incumbent James C. Stewart, former mayor Terry L. Troutt and present Councilman William Oakley will square off in the primary with the top two vote-getters clashing again in the general election.

Because there are only two candidates for City Clerk and Treasurer positions, there will be no primary for those offices.

Seven-year incumbent Leonard J. Folmar is being challenged by Gerald Kubiak, director of public safety, for the clerk's job. Incumbent John B. Lewkowicz will face Finance Director Helen Gallien for the treasurer's position.

Meanwhile, Romulus voters will be faced with a long list of council hopefuls.

Included in the list are five incumbents seeking re-election — Council President Gervazio Canejo, Fred J. Block, Robert H. Martin, Beverly McAnally and Jimmie C. Raspberry.

Also seeking a council seat are Barry Bauman, Joseph Hardy Willcockson, Daniel Doss, Arthur J. Golden, Ray Cantrell, Edmund Bizek, Jr., Gerald W. Budd, and Patrick G. Vallely.

Voters will also be faced with a referendum on the primary ballot whether to double all elected officials' terms from two to four years.

If the proposal passes, the mayor, treasurer and four council candidates receiving the most votes would begin four-year terms.

The city clerk and remaining three elected council members would each serve two-year terms. After that, each position would be filled every four years.

Aftermath of storm

When a late-evening thunderstorm struck Romulus recently, it uprooted trees on California Street and Eureka. Storm damage was not too severe, but it left these trees flattened in its wake. Shown above are trees that were battered to the ground at the home of Mrs. Irene Coleman, 34471 California, located just off Wayne Road between Eureka and Pennsylvania in Romulus.

Salaried city employees vote for AFSCME union

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Salaried workers in supervisory and non-supervisory positions at Romulus City Hall have voted overwhelmingly to join the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) union.

The balloting, which was held at Romulus High School July 20, resulted in a 31-3 affirmative decision. Voting took place at the high school because Mayor James C. Stewart wouldn't let the city employees hold the election at city hall, according to a union spokesman.

"We couldn't believe it and we don't think the state could either, when Stewart wouldn't let us hold the election at city hall," said Michael Herman, newly-elected chief steward of the salaried employees' union.

"So we found the high school to be an acceptable alternative."

Herman, who is director of water and sewer billing, said it was very ironic that Stewart wouldn't let the election be held at city hall. "Mayor Stewart is not the reason for us forming the union," Herman said. "In fact, just about every salaried employee I've talked to thinks he has treated us more than fair and we have good working relationship with him."

Herman said there were three basic reasons for salaried city employees forming their own union — security in their jobs, comparable pay with neighboring cities and City Council's seeming insensitivity to their financial needs.

"Although Mayor Stewart has treated us very well, we had no job security at all," Herman pointed out. "Not only that, our salaries are much lower in Romulus than in comparable jobs in surrounding communities and it's very discouraging."

Stewart challenged some of the positions that wanted to be included in the union. So far, the only employee positions not covered by the union are the mayor's secretary, the City Council secretary, the Personnel Director and Personnel clerk.

A meeting was held last Wednesday to elect officers of the new AFSCME union. Besides Herman being voted chief steward, Ed Fall, director of the Building Dept., was elected alternate steward; purchasing director Ray Cantrell was chosen chairman; and Joyce Palmer, of the Neighborhood Community Center in Meadows subdivision, was named secretary.

One vote makes difference

Who says one vote doesn't make a big difference?

Just ask Edward Thomas, Jr. of Romulus.

The 32-year-old candidate for City Council has been disqualified because he has only 99 valid petition signatures — one less than the 100 needed.

Actually, Thomas, of 36231 Vinewood, turned in 113 signatures but 14 were not valid, the City Clerk's office reported Monday.

"We checked and double-checked," said Deputy Clerk Thelma Shivel, "but Mr. Thomas' petitions contained an insufficient number of registered voter signatures to qualify."

Who says one vote doesn't make a big difference? Edward Thomas, Jr. certainly doesn't.

Defer tax for eligible

There are many residents in Romulus who have until Feb. 15 to pay their summer taxes. But they must apply for the deferment by Sept. 30 of this year at the City Tax Assessor's office, according to Deputy Treasurer Pat Geldmacher.

The Michigan income tax law was recently amended to allow certain homeowners to claim a deferment on their summer taxes. The deferment may be claimed by senior citizens, paraplegics, quadriplegics, eligible servicemen, eligible widows and blind persons.

A senior citizen is defined as an individual who has reached the age of 65, or a husband and wife, one of which has reached the age of 65 by the end of the tax year, and a surviving spouse of a person who died after reaching the age of 65.

A paraplegic or quadriplegic must have partial or complete loss of the use of both legs or both arms and both legs to qualify, according to the newly amended law.

For an application or further information, residents may contact the City Assessor's office at 941-0666, ext. 21, 22, or 23. Assessor Dave Krause said his office will be glad to help anyone who requests assistance.

Romulus hard-pressed for coverage

Insurance firms shun many cities

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Cities and other municipalities are becoming "off limits" for insurance companies.

More and more cities, like Romulus, are finding it harder and harder to get insurance coverage and are in danger of being dropped by their present companies.

Romulus had its city fleet insurance cancelled by Citizen's Insurance Company of America on June 23 and had to take out a policy with Michigan Automobile Insurance Placement Facility, an assigned pool for high-risk drivers. The fleet insurance covered all city vehicles, except 11 privately driven city-owned cars.

The new high-risk policy is much costlier, but no other insurance companies want to cover the City of Romulus with fleet insurance.

"One company is interested but is moving very methodically," said City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar, who has been advertising for city insurance with no results. "We sent out 30 letters to insurance agencies and only got two responses — and those two didn't list fleet insurance.

Folmar, who is president of Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerk's Association, has dealings with many other cities in the state.

"Insurance companies are withdrawing from liability coverage," he said. "Although Romulus definitely has a problem with getting insurance coverage, you can't confine it to one community. Courts are saying now that cities and governmental agencies are not exempt from lawsuits anymore."

"This is a mounting problem but the 'crunch' has not hit yet. I did a survey recently and two other communities have been given notice by their insurance companies that they will be dropped," said Folmar, who has recently been appointed to the legislative committee of International Institute of Municipal Clerks, a national association with members in 10 other countries.

In a related matter, the police departments of Hazel Park and Clinton Township had trouble getting insurance coverage recently because of liability problems. Hazel Park managed to keep its insurance — at double the cost — and Clinton Township was "kept on" for 30 days until they could find another insurance company to cover them.

While police are finding it almost impossible to get insurance coverage against false-arrest suits and other liability claims, cities are also finding it increasingly difficult to get fleet insurance to cover their vehicles.

The insurance company which dropped its fleet coverage on Romulus vehicles in June, cited the poor personal driving records of some city workers as the reason.

"There were 20 employees the insurance company identified as having driving problems," Folmar explained. Most of these drivers with poor records worked in the Department of Public Works, an insurance company spokesman said.

"According to the union contract, never before had the employee's personal driver's record had anything to do with employment."

Folmar added. "Unless, of course, it had been suspended or revoked. The City of Romulus had no provisions in the contract where it could take any action unless the employee's license was suspended or revoked."

In January, Romulus instituted a driver's training program and wanted to make it mandatory for all employees who drove city vehicles to participate. "But the union filed a grievance that the contract would include employees' personal driving records," Folmar said.

The Teamsters Union, which represents the Romulus DPW workers, contends that the poor driving records of the city employees is with their personal cars and not while driving city-owned vehicles.

However, the insurance company spokesman countered by saying that if an employee had an accident while driving a city-owned vehicle, his personal driving record would not be brought to light and the company wouldn't stand a chance of winning the court case.

CB World

What you buy is what you get!

So you're in the market for a CB radio, but you're not sure about where to buy one. This porbably is the first headache you're going to run into. Today there are so many different businesses that sell CB radios, the choices are endless.

First of all try to go to a store that specializes in CB radio and radio equipment. Look to see if they display their merchandise and maybe even have working models on the floor that you can try out. Why buy something in a sealed carton that you know nothing about? Go to a store that can assist you with your choice and can also back up their merchandise. Check out all the prices of the units, but don't let price be your guide.

There are numerous hardware, drug and department stores selling CBs and they sell them at a decent price, but when a problem arises with the unit, you run into problems. The manager of a drug store just isn't equipped to work on your radio in the back room. To these type of stores CB radios are just another item. If they stopped selling CBs tomorrow, it wouldn't put a dent in their business.

Look for a good CB specialty shop. They might be a little higher priced, but the service is of a much higher quality and you will find the equipment performance rated much higher.

Another advantage of dealing with a CB specialty shop is the amount of merchandise in stock. You won't be sold a trunk lip antenna for your hatch-back car.

The next two headaches you run into are installation and SWR match. Your general merchandise stores will more than likely tell you that you need to have an SWR meter in order to install your set. Sure, it's true that it's nice to own one, but it's not mandatory. Any good CB shop will match your antenna or possibly loan a meter to you.

Some CB shops even offer a walk-in service to CBers who need minor repairs or adjustments done to their sets. There might be a modest charge for the service but you can generally have the job done within an hour's time. It sure beats having your radio tied up for a few days, or even weeks. One other thing to consider would be purchasing a power mike in a general merchandise store. Who installs the connector?

You're not just an average customer while you're shopping in a CB specialty shop. You are, and should be, given special attention to your needs.

In a specialty shop you might receive free advice and even quick checks on your radio, but don't expect free installation. These shops have to make a living and don't forget you're getting more than a routine installation. These people know how to install your radio and antenna for maximum efficiency.

One last thing to keep in mind is: Don't expect super service from any shop, if you bought your radio from a discount or general merchandise store and then decided to visit a specialty shop for free advice and installation, because it more than likely won't happen.

If anyone would like to hear a channel being misused and abused (Romulus area) tune in to Channel 22. By the way, Starfish and Black Bart, we copied you using the channel, too. It's good to know that some people still know how to use the radio properly. Keep up the good work.

Candidate for
MAYOR OF ROMULUS

As most of you know, Romulus has been the subject of a lot of bad publicity lately — All because we still have a few people running for office who are more interested in "politics" than they are in Romulus.

For those of you who are fed up with the same old names, the "politics", the teams and screams in Romulus City Hall, I believe my candidacy offers voters the chance to make a much needed change...because I'm not interested in making a name for myself. I'm only interested in restoring a good name to Romulus.

I'm a businessman, not a politician. So throughout my campaign I'll be talking with you about the many ways I believe we can get more services for our tax dollars — For senior citizen programs; for roads, recreation etc..

In the meantime, if you feel some of your candidates are more interested in themselves and politics than they are in these issues, then maybe you should put them in their proper place — which is NOT City Hall.

THE ROMULUS ROMAN

Seniors get 'boost' with winter fuel bills

Last winter's bitter cold temperatures gave everyone excessively high heating bills. Especially hard hit were senior citizens on fixed incomes.

Now, however, comes a small ray of sunshine in the form of a $50 rebate for certain Romulus senior citizens who qualify. Some eligible seniors can even have up to $250 paid on outstanding current heat bills.

But applications for the rebate and payment must be submitted to the Department of Social Services (DSS) in Lansing no later than Aug. 15.

As a result of a Congressional Crisis Intervention Program, $13.3 million is available to Michigan senior citizens, according to Beth Spencer, director of senior citizen's chore services program in Romulus.

"More than 800,000 applications already have been mailed to recipients of Supplemental Social Security, property tax credits and those who have utility bills in arrears," Miss Spencer said.

Rebates of $50 per household will be returned to those seniors whose heating bills are current, and outstanding bills to a maximum of $250 will be paid to the utility companies for other eligible seniors.

"I think that it's something senior citizens really need and I hope everyone eligible takes advantage of the program," she said.

The senior citizen's Chore Program Director said she has applications available at the Romulus Help center, 35085 Goddard Road, just east of Wayne Road, and will be glad to assist everyone who requests information. She can be reached at 941-7970 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

She urged all senior citizens to check and see if they are eligible for the rebate.

If you are 65 years of age or older and your yearly income does not exceed $3,713 for one person ($4,913 for two people), you are eligible, she said.

Because there is so little time to implement the program, the Office of Services to the Aging and Community Action Agencies want to get the information out as quickly as possible. The program will be administered by the DSS with the help of the two other agencies.

Congress inaugurated the "Special Crisis Intervention Program" to provide funds to relieve part of the energy cost burden on domestic households brought on by last winter's excessively high fuel bills.

The funds have been available for two months, but the submitting of a state application was held up waiting the implementation of federal regulations.

To receive assistance under the program, individuals are required to file an application form with the DSS. The majority of potential participants will be identified by using existing records of SSI and property tax credit recipients. These persons will automatically be mailed an application form.

Also, Michigan energy suppliers will provide the DSS with a list of all persons in arrears, and persons identified as in arrears will be mailed an application.

Using these two master lists, a large mailing of applications was sent out July 15. Persons filing for the program may either return the application by mail or in person to the local DSS office.

All applications must be returned by Aug. 15 under the proposed program.

The State Legislature is currently studying several plans to alleviate the crunch of high fuel costs to senior citizens living on fixed incomes.

Miss Spencer urged everyone to check and see if they're eligible for the program. She can be reached at 941-7970 for more information.

Hot meals may lose funds

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Senior citizens are going to have to turn out in greater numbers if they want to continue to have the free hot lunches provided by Wayne County.

Romulus City Council received a letter from John Barr, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, informing local officials that not enough senior citizens are taking advantage of the program. If more don't take part, Barr said, the program will lose substantial amounts of state funds for the program.

Elected officials from surrounding communities turned out for the Monday noon punch at "J" Building at Wayne County General Hospital, Merriman Road, just north of Michigan Ave.

Romulus Councilman Jimmie Raspberry says he is concerned about the senior citizens and wants to see everyone, especially elected officials, help them in this endeavor.

"We have been informed that if more senior citizens don't take part, the hot lunch programs will be cut back," said Raspberry.

In his letter to area officials, Barr stated: "Please set aside July 18, because you are invited to a party to help celebrate the opening of the 46th site where free hot noon meals are provided for senior citizens throughout Wayne County."

Barr told the recipients of his letter that they and many other public officials would enjoy themselves and their presence was needed to help publicize the valuable program which, he said, would accommodate at least 3,000 more senior citizens who should be taking advantage of the service.

Then he issued a warning. "Unless we succeed with your help in attracting more participants, our funds from the State will be cut, and would thus eliminate or substantially reduce the level of this service for seniors in your community. It is important that you attend."

There was music, special refreshments and a door prize for the seniors at Monday's lunch. Elected officials dressed up in aprons and chef's hats to serve the senior citizens before dining themselves.

Barr had urged officials to invite any others who could be influential in spreading the word of the free hot lunch program to those who would benefit. He reminded everyone that each center also provides other services such as transportation, health screening, counseling, shopping and legal assistance as well as recreation.

"It would be a shame if the program was hindered by lack of participation," Raspberry said. "I think we should do everything we can for our senior citizens and this is a program that is of the utmost importance."

Senior Citizens wishing more information about the free hot lunch program can call 274-2800 for more information.

BROOKER R. EDWARDS

Avery 'clarifies' abstention vote

Romulus school board newcomer Wayne Avery wants to clarify the record.

"It was stated that the vote to hold the September millage election was 6-1, with Gordon Silvy casting the only negative vote," he said. "At first it was reported at the board meeting that it was 7-0 in favor. But Silvy did vote no, and I abstained." It was reported to The Roman that the vote was 6-1.

Avery explained the reason for his abstention.

"Basically, if we're going to have the election, we should tell the people where the money is going. I feel we should tell them exactly where the money is being spent," he said.

The newly-elected board member said he was not against the millage election.

"It's not that I'm against the idea of a millage election, but with the contracts not settled yet, it's impossible to tell where the money will be going. I guess it was my form of protest," he admitted. "If there's one thing I've heard over the past year or two, it's the fact that people don't know where the school board is spending the funds, and I'm for letting them know exactly how we plan to spend the money and let them decide whether they want to approve it or not."

At last week's board meeting, Avery voted against reducing students' instruction to half-day sessions.

"I don't think it's fair to the kids. Two and a half hours a day is not much better than nothing at all. It wouldn't hurt some of the kids, but it would effect many, especially some of the slower learners," he added.

Avery advocates closing some of the schools entirely and even selling some of them. He mentioned Harrison and Romulus Elementary schools as an example.

"Romulus Elementary school would make an ideal senior citizen's center in the heart of town," he emphasized.

He pointed out the small enrollment at some of the schools and said it was a shame to keep them open for such a few students.

"The school board voted to close Gordonier a year or two ago, but after much noise and protest by the PTA, the board reversed its decision," Avery said.

He'd like to see the sixth grade students put into the junior high schools and combining elementary students from other schools.

"This would permit us to gradually close some of the elementary schools, thus saving on maintenance," he added.

Romulus teacher eyes council seat

David A. Ferdon, a teacher in Romulus for nine years, is seeking election to the Romulus City Council in the Sept. 12 primary.

The 33-year-old lifetime resident of Romulus filed his petition to run for the office June 20.

A teacher at Romulus High School, Ferdon has been co-op coordinator the past four years and has earned a bachelor of science degree from Stout State University and a master of arts from Eastern Michigan University in 1970.

YWCA class set on water safety

Romulus area children and adults will have the opportunity to acquaint themselves with water safety through a Western Wayne County YWCA-sponsored program.

The YWCA will begin this series of classes Monday in the swimming pool of Ramada Inn, located near Merriman Road and I-94 expressway, Romulus. Beginning students are offered the chance to acquaint themselves with swimming and to instill an ability to cope with dangerous situations in the water.

The classes are designed to remove any fear the students may encounter when they enter the water, according to Mary Willoughby, area program coordinator for the YWCA.

"The program was planned especially to help a beginning swimmer avoid panic and to remember that his first job when falling into deep water, or swimming beyond points where he can stand safely, is to stay afloat and swim to safety," Mrs. Willoughby said. "We're hoping many will participate."

The classes, taught by Nancy Elliott, a water safety instructor for the YWCA, will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.; beginners (children), 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.; and beginners (adult) from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Advanced Beginners (children) classes will be held from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.; beginners (children), 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.; and beginners (adult) from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

The cost of the program is $12 for members. Non-members may apply for a yearly membership at the time of enrollment. Cost of an adult membership is $6 and children (under 18), $3.

Registration for the swimming classes is now taking place at the YWCA, 26279 Michigan Avenue, between Beech Daly and John Daly in Inkster. But the deadline is Friday and YWCA officials urge interested persons to register as soon as possible.

More information can be obtained by calling the YWCA at 561-4110.

Mary Ann Banks, a life-long resident of Romulus, is seeking election to the City Council.

Edwards seeks seat

Former City Councilman Brooker R. Edwards, who served in that position from 1970-73, is seeking re-election to Romulus City Council.

Edwards 51, has been a resident of Romulus for 24 years and is presently employed by the Ford Motor Co. at the Sheldon Road Plant.

In addition to his council position, he also helped to contract Wayne County Sheriff as the city's police protection. He offered a resolution and got support for bus transportation for the senior citizens of Romulus.

Edwards attended Alcorn A & M College in Mississippi, is a 32nd Degree Mason, past master of St. John Lodge No. 44 and a member of Parks Memorial A.M.E. Church. Married, he and his wife, Willie, lives at 11411 Moore and have two grown sons, Harold and Jerry.

He supported the recreation program, water and sewer extension program, urban renewal, master lighting plan and ambulance service to the city. A former member of the Police, Fire and Safety Commission, Edwards also served on the Romulus Recreation Commission.

Biking in Michigan

134-mile tour links three college towns

(This is the ninth in a series of 15 weekly articles on bicycle touring through Michigan. These features are designed to encourage Michigan tourism and promote bicycling near population centers.)

A 134-mile bicycle tour linking three college towns and a Lake Erie port city passes through rich farmland and along shady small town streets, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The entire trip through Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Adrian and Monroe offers good roads, a variety of rural and urban scenery and interesting stops en route. There are city parks for rest stops along the way, plus motels and Sterling State Park near Monroe for camping.

Cyclists who head north on Huron Road at Michigan Avenue in Ypsilanti parallel the Huron River. Behind Ypsilanti's City Hall and historical museum is Riverside Park, with rest rooms and picnic tables. Eastern Michigan University and Ryerson Stadium are on the right a mile farther along North Huron Road.

Watch for Superior Street and turn right one mile to Geddes Road, which becomes Fuller Road after a 3-mile stretch along the Huron River. City Park is on the right off Geddes, and Gallup Park and the Nichols Arboretum are across the river, south of Fuller. Across the Huron River via the Huron Parkway bridge to reach them.

The tour continues west on Fuller and jogs north a block on Oakway to combined Glacier Way and Fuller. Take Glen and Catherine streets into downtown Ann Arbor and past the University of Michigan campus. Turn left off Catherine onto Main Street to pass the world's largest stadium on the U-M campus. Ann Arbor-Saline Road angles off Main Street to the right a mile past the stadium and heads out of town.

Points of special interest in Ann Arbor are the Matthaei Botanical Gardens, north of Geddes on Dixboro Road, with an indoor garden and displays along outdoor nature trails and the University Exhibit Museum on Washtenaw at North University, where fossils, minerals and wildlife exhibits draw thousands of persons each year.

Adrian is 45 miles from Ann Arbor, via Ann Arbor-Saline Road to Wagner, then south a short distance to Pleasant Lake Road and west another 13 miles through verdant farmland to M-52.

The trip south on M-52 rolls along 23 miles of farms and fields and passes through Manchester. That picturesque town has shady streets, old homes and a downtown area with several pre-Civil War buildings. Carr Park, on the River Raisin, is a good spot for a rest or a picnic. Mann's Feed Mill, which still grinds grain using water power from the river, dates from 1832.

Adrian, 20 miles south on M-52, combines agriculture and industry. A General Motors Chevrolet Division plant, a facility of American Chain and Cable and several smaller plants contrast with well-kept farms producing corn and soybeans. Cyclists will find Island and Riverside parks convenient for rest stops.

Adrian College boasts a scenic mall, a 55-bell carillon tower and chapel and walkways to take cyclists on a tour of the campus.

A 36-mile bike ride from Adrian to Monroe leaves Adrian on Siena Heights Drive. Siena Heights College at the edge of town is liberal arts school run by the Dominican Sisters. The Motherhouse of the Adrian Congregation, which is part of the complex, dates from 1886.

Following Oakwood and Laberdee roads to Rogers Highway, jog left to Holloway, then right on Holloway to Ridge Road for a 4-mile ride to join eastbound M-50.

M-50 leads into Monroe, a distance of 24 miles, passing through Dundee. At Dundee, a shady park on the River Raisin with picnic tables is a good place to stop for rest and a snack.

M-50 enters Monroe via Elm Street. Cyclists who follow M-50 and North Dixie Highway go to State Park Road and Sterling State Park, a 997-acre facility on Lake Erie at the north edge of Monroe, with beach, picnic and overnight camping accommodations.

The Monroe County Historical Museum on South Monroe Street in Monroe contains displays of early Frenchtown days, the area's Indian heritage and an extensive exhibit concerning Gen. George Armstrong Custer, a one-time Monroe resident and famed Indian fighter who fought at the Battle of Little Big Horn.

The cycle trip from Monroe back to Ypsilanti covers 38 miles of farm country and passes through the villages of Maybee and Oakville. Leave Monroe on M-125 (Monroe Street). Turn left on Stewart to Steffes, jogging right to Blue Bush Road.

Beyond Maybee, head north on Palmer Road to connect with Stony Creek Road and Oakville Road leading into Oakville. At Oakville, head north on Whittaker Road 15 miles to Ypsilanti, connecting with Huron Road there.

Bicyclists should pace themselves according to their ability. The League of American Wheelmen estimates the average bicyclist can cover 35 to 50 miles a day with ease.

College towns, rivers, farm country and a glimpse of Lake Erie await bicyclists along a 134-mile circle tour linking Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Adrian and Monroe. Starting along the Huron River at Ypsilanti, the route passes Eastern Michigan University and goes through the University of Michigan campus at Ann Arbor. Other colleges en route are Adrian and Siena Heights. They are both at Adrian. A bicycle trail between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor follows Glacier Way along the Huron River and through Nichols Arboretum. The campuses of Eastern Michigan University, the U. of M. and Adrian College are ideal for cycling. Automobile Club of Michigan points out that there are city parks for rest stops all along the way, plus motels and lodges for overnight stops. Sterling State Park, on Lake Erie at Monroe, is the only campground with overnight facilities. The 997-acre park boasts a beach, picnic grounds and 192 campsites.

Notre Dame is site of annual retreat

On Aug. 12, hundreds of men will be assembling on the campus of Notre Dame University, as they have for the past 59 years for their annual Big Retreat. Since 1918 more than 80,000 men from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and other midwest states have attended this famous retreat.

During their 2-day stay on campus retreatants will be housed in student residence halls. Most of the exercises will be held on the open campus quadrangle near these halls. Special sessions will take place in the famed Lourdes Grotto. Hall-room assignments will be at 4 p.m. Aug. 12, with the Retreat closing after the noon meal Aug. 14. Fr. Charles J. Lavelly, CSC, will preach this retreat. Fr. Lavelly has preached widely in the Chicago area and on several occasions has been guest retreat master at Fatima Retreat House. He will be assisted by several Fathers and Brothers who will be available for private conferences and counseling.

This will be the first year that a retreat for women will be preached simultaneously on the campus. In past years a limited group of women made their retreat at Fatima Retreat House on this weekend.

Reservations can be made with the local Retreat Captain, Chum Stockwell, at 721-2257. Reservations also can be directed to Retreat Director, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556, or by calling 1-219-234-1067, ext. 68.

Handicappers agree

Human, civil rights will be nation's big test

By GERALD T. HARRIS

(Note: Gerald Harris is the chairman of the Michigan Legislative Council, Organization for the Handicapped, and was a congressional delegate for Congressman William D. Ford to the recent White House Conference on the Handicapped.)

(PART THREE)

The major problem today is the fact that in the Transportation Workshop, a resolution was passed calling for the elderly and handicapped to have the same rights as other persons to use public transportation facilities and services.

Calling for a long term objective of requiring all systems to be fully accessible, the resolution requires all transit vehicles, purchased with UMTA funds after Feb. 15, 1977, be accessible to the maximum extent technologically feasible. Total accessibility was their expressed goal.

The question of available, accessible bus transportation throughout a mass transit system, has not yet really been addressed by transit planners. Manufacturers so far have refused to make buses for the elderly and handicapped. Our greatest concern should also be on the energy problems and service that will handle the entire public with the right type of promotion of good transportation.

Failure on the part of any transit company or authority using governmental funds is in violation of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and is spelled out in Section 16 (a) of the UMTA.

Basically, handicapped people want to travel when they want to work, to be educated or just have the right to travel when they wish. There is a need for both systems of transportation, the dial-a-ride and the regular transit system. There is federal legislative precedence for the travel of the handicapped people.

The Civil Rights, along with human rights for all people, is going to be the biggest test this nation has ever seen. In our country, most human rights find their specificity in the Civil Rights, based in federal and state constitutions and statutory provisions. A civil, or legal, right is one which may be ultimately enforced in a court of law. I refer to the United Nations General Assembly on Dec. 9, 1975, adopted the Declaration on the Rights of Disabled Persons.

To adapt to the physical world, which includes ability to tolerate physical energy expenditure, while resuming activities of daily living. There is need to further emphasize the role of comprehensive rehabilitation programs to maximize independent function, educational achievement, job opportunity and social acceptance as the right of all handicapped persons.

I strongly urge the Executive Office and the Congress to begin a new White House Conference now, to outdo on all of the mass paper work that came out of the 1977 Conference; that each state bring a final draft one week before the conference to work out before the opening day of the White House Conference for its adoption and recommendations to the Congress and the Executive Branch.

Finally, may we all work together towards the needs of all handicapped, by bringing together a common goal in employment, rehabilitation and in living conditions. Then, and only then, can we look towards a dynamic future for all Americans.

ANP carrier Steve Green, 15, of Westland, has been chosen "Carrier of the week" by the newspaper's circulation director, Gene Wertz. Steve, who has delivered the Westland Eagle for the last year, was named due to his excellent performance in prompt bill payments, courtesy, volunteer work in contests and volume of subscriptions.

The Michigan Legislative Council Organization for the Handicapped has established, within the council, several important committees with outstanding leadership to aid the elderly and the handicapped. The committees are a Legal Committee to expose any organization who shall use the name of the handicapped and/or disabled to benefit private interests or groups in the name of the handicapped. The protection of the rights of the handicapped are not spelled out in the federal acts, but, effective June 1, 1977, the Michigan Handicappers Civil Rights Act became law. The council has setup a Committee on Housing, Civil Rights, Job Placement, Rehabilitation, Legal Investigations, Veterans, Education and Health, Welfare and Senior Citizens.

Most handicapped individuals want to be self-productive and on the payrolls and not on disability checks. Rehabilitation is a dynamic process of the re-establishment of the disabled person's capacity to sense and participate in his or her environment and communicate with

From the Editor:

How to get your story in the paper

How does one go about getting a news item published in the paper? A common question asked by hundreds of individuals and groups throughout the community.

Because the question has been asked so frequently in the past, and will probably be asked again in the future, Associated Newspapers is devoting this space to a detailed explanation of how to improve the odds that your story will make the pages of your newspaper.

A community group or civic organization should suggest that the group give one person the responsibility of dealing with the paper. That person should come into the office and discuss with the news editor, the paper's deadline for news items in your community, the type of photographs suitable for inclusion in the paper, and the identifying information for photographs.

In addition, the person delegated the responsibility for working with the paper should make an attempt to gain an understanding of procedures employed by the newspaper.

An individual who wishes to place an item in the paper should also contact the news editor for deadlines and the proper procedures for preparing news material and photos for submission.

In general, any item submitted to your paper will have a better chance of getting in if a few simple guidelines are followed.

Always type submitted material, if possible. It is time-consuming and costly for the newspaper to type material that is submitted in handwritten form. In addition, some people write illegibly and it is almost impossible to read their writing.

When typing information for the story, start the story down in the middle of the first sheet of paper. By leaving the top half of the sheet blank, the editor has space to instruct the typesetters on how to set the story. The space at the top of the paper will also be used to instruct the composition department on what page the material will be printed.

Again, if material is typed, it should be triple spaced. This will allow the editor to correct spelling and grammatical errors. Single-spaced letters do not provide any space for those corrections.

If the material is submitted handwritten, it should also be triple-spaced on lined paper, and the material should be printed rather than written.

Handwritten stories that are submitted single spaced must always be typed by the editorial staff prior to printing. This additional effort will require more time by the paper, and consequently, the article may appear late in the paper.

Photographs which accompany any news item submitted to the paper should be black and white, no smaller than two inches square or larger than 8 by 10 inches. All photographs should have the name of the subjects printed on the back, and also the name of the person they are to be returned to.

Color photographs sometimes can be used, but may be rejected by the photo editor, if he believes they will not reproduce properly.

If a photograph is necessary to properly support the news item sent in, a call well in advance of the activity should be made to request that a photographer be assigned. While it is impossible for the paper to assign a photographer to all the requested events, we will make every effort to cover events of a broad general news interest.

These few simple guidelines will considerably improve the chances of a submitted story making it into the paper.

While we are dedicated to serving the community, it only stands to reason that articles properly prepared will be handled the fastest. However, there are times when we will have no one available for handling those articles that may require special treatment.

Never request that your news item be taken over the phone. This practice leads to errors and if the article is worth printing, it is worth printing properly.

Clip this article from the paper and keep it handy for those times when you might wish to submit an article for the paper.

By following these guidelines, you will make our job easier and your article better.

We are standing by waiting to hear from you.

Working together, we can build a better community.

Bald Eagle Speaks

We never say 'No'

By BOB AMEEN

Many Americans of today have forgotten how to say that all-powerful word - "no."

Conditions that now exist in our nation, some of which leave much to be desired, stem from the pendulum's swing away from the conservative to the liberal point of view, shared by many segments of our today's society.

Sticking out like a sore thumb throughout this upheaval is the excessive permissiveness permitted by adults with our young people.

How many parents say "no" to a son or daughter's request for money? How many say no and really mean it when a daughter wants parental permission to share dormitory quarters at the university which she is attending with someone of the opposite sex?

Many young people today, even young adults, would scoff at anyone who finds fault with the above as being really "square." So, at the risk of being labeled a square, it is my contention that if the permissiveness which has pervaded our land is allowed to continue unabated, we are in for serious trouble, ranging from soaring crime rates and outbreaks of revolution to being taken over by a foreign power without the firing of a single shot.

Consider the following:

A child growing up in today's social climate has an excellent chance of growing and developing into an economic misfit. By the time he or she has graduated from high school or college, they have been subjected to a disease which has permeated their lives at every turn - permissiveness.

In schools, Sunday schools, the courts, the home, at work - just about everywhere - discipline is lax and they are allowed to do just about what they please. Almost any kind of dress or attire is permitted in schools and at home. If they come to work late, it's okay because the employer fears he may be sued for infringing on his employee's civil rights! The family pastor, swept up in the ever-growing wave of liberalism, is often loath to lay down the law in Sunday school or church for fear the equally liberal parents will leave his congregation.

In the classroom, grading standards have been lowered to the point where an imbecile can get passing marks. The idea of flunking any student is almost unheard of. By the time this student graduates from high school or college, he or she is no more capable of coping with the dog-eat-dog atmosphere of the outside world than the man in the moon!

Fortunately, or unfortunately, liberalism has become so entrenched in industry and business that an employer can be found somewhere who will employ this ill-equipped leader of America's tomorrow.

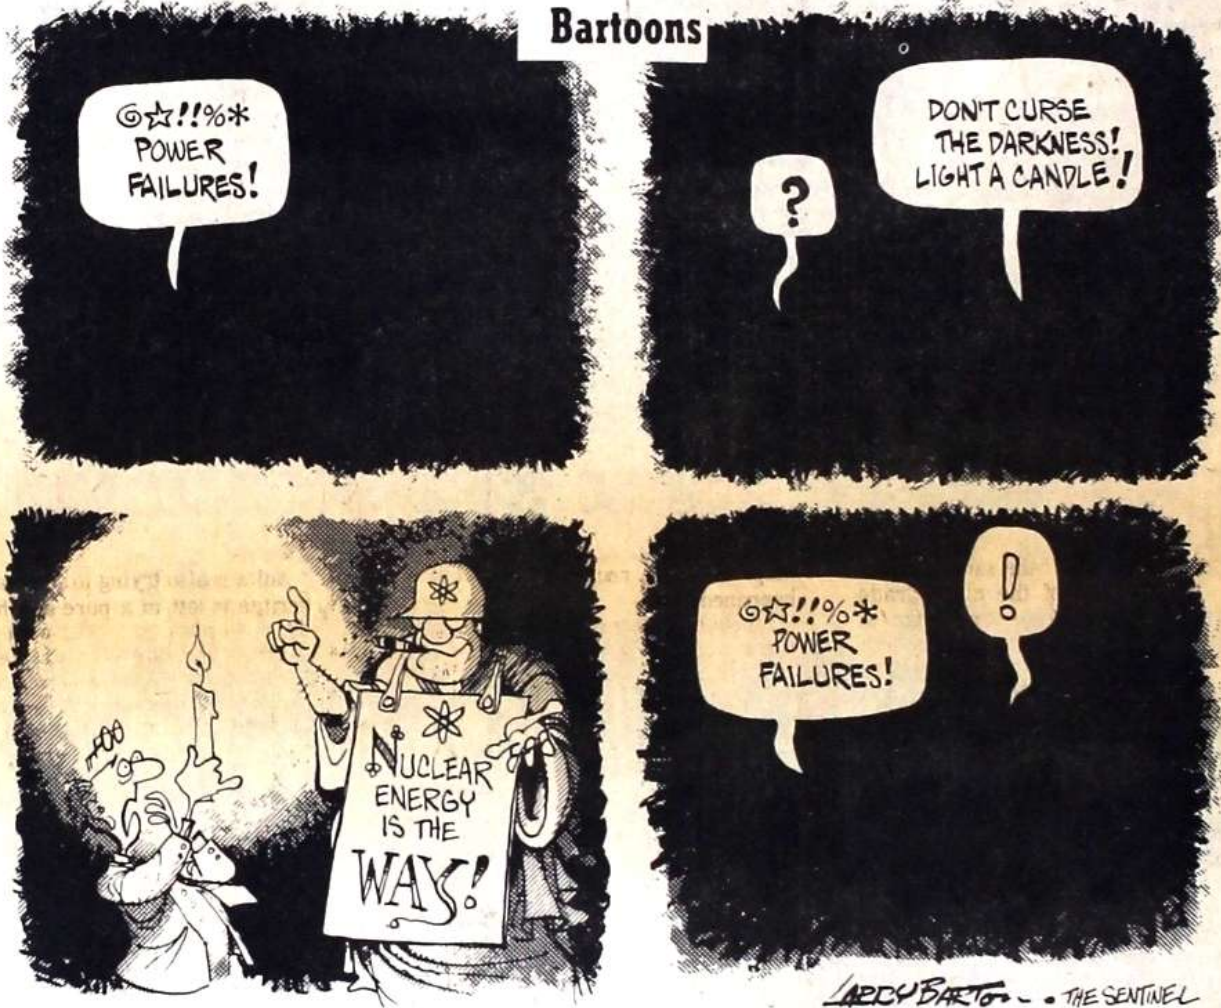

But, as in other walks of life, given enough rope an individual or company will hang itself. No business can hope to survive for very long when the day comes when most of his workforce is composed of illiterate, ignorant and non-motivated personnel dedicated to merely getting a paycheck for putting in their time.

Eventually, a growing number of companies will hit the dust financially and the point will be reached where these misguided young adults will become another dependent in the increasing number of welfare recipients. But, every good thing comes to an end because someone has to pay the bills. In this case, however, the day may come when there will be no one left to pick up the tab.

When parents learn to say no to their offspring in their best interests, when schools learn to say no to unrestricted dress codes, co-ed dormitories and to lowered grading and teaching standards, when churches learn to say no to liberal movements which would tear down religious traditions and foundations, when employers say no to coddling workers and insist on paying only for services rendered when the courts say no to probation and light sentences, and when youngsters and young adults learn to say no to themselves in regard to irresponsible and immature actions, then perhaps the pendulum of American thought will swing back to a more middle-of-the-road position.

Only then, will the America dreamed of by the founders of this great land again find itself on the path to prosperity for all.

Vacation mental health

(Concluded)

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

As I get ready to do my last column on "Tuttle's Definitions of Mental Health", I'm trying desperately to unscramble and then decipher the pages of notes I've been taking for the past three weeks as I've lead the most delightful life of a nomad.

As I recall, last week ended with some remarks about the Minnesota Vikings football team. We'll quickly conclude that episode.

One Wednesday afternoon I went across town to the Viking's training camp. I planned to get there around 2 p.m., because that's the time they are let out of their cages after they have eaten their daily ration of raw meat. To see these animals disguised as mere mortals cavorting about the practice field is to see a remake of the landing at Omaha beach on D-Day... They are fierce in their determination to defend their turf, and woe be to he among men who would presume to try and annex any of that turf. They are fearless and fast and strong and of the greatest significance, they are MEAN!

Back to mental health. If my personal definition of mental health is to be implemented, then I'm convinced that I must be honest and speak my mind. Thus, as the practice session wore on, I found myself snickering from time to time and voicing my criticism toward what I clearly recognized as ineptitude among many of the Viking stalwarts.

I took a breather to rest my overworked lungs, and glanced at a gigantic, muscular Arian standing next to me. As I watched, he reached down into a tub filled with ice and bottled beer and withdrew a bottle of Grain Belt (a favorite in the North country). He then, as casually as I might tie my shoe laces, flicked the cap off the bottle using only his thumb and forefinger. My knees grew weak. The bottle he had opened so easily was not a twist-off type; rather it was a bottle which most people are obliged to open with a metal bottle opener!

He was a Viking fan: his size 90 T shirt said so! At that point I was forced to reassess some original convictions and declare to myself that perhaps my physical health was as important, if not at that time, more important than my mental health. Be assured that for the next 20 minutes I was the best damn fan the Vikings have ever had or are ever likely to have.

Through the grace of Divine Providence I was able to escape from this bully-boy antagonist (I said as I left, "I gotta go to the bathroom, I'll be right back.")

While I still haven't found that bathroom, I did manage to show excellent speed and footwork in disappearing through the throng and making my way back to my mother in law's house. Now, I could regain a healthy mental condition.

The flight back to Michigan was accomplished at nighttime. We were aided by what we used to call a bomber's moon when I was in Korea several centuries ago. The view at night is breathtaking. Little towns and cities appear as pinholes of light against a pitch black backdrop. Bigger cities sparkle in the dark, while large cities glow as beacons in the night.

The signs go on and we snuff out our cigarettes and fasten our seat belts. Detroit Metropolitan is only minutes away.

Again to our surprise and to the benefit of our mental health, our baggage managed to follow us directly to the Northwest pick-up area.

With a sigh of resignation we hail a cab and take the short ride back to Westland.

The conversation in the cab concerns itself with our lack of agreement on precisely what we could see and identify as we were approaching Metro.

We agreed that the Detroit River is obvious - you can see it working its way from Lake St. Clair past Belle Isle to Grosse Isle to Lake Erie.

Cities on either side of the river cast curious and beautiful images on the water. It seems that the Canadian cities, even on a Thursday night, are not as active as the American cities. (Is it true that Windsor rolls up its sidewalks at 8 p.m.)? Donna insisted she could pick out the Algiers Drive-in Theatre in Westland, while it was my position that she was really looking at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

Such discussions, especially when you know down deep in your heart that you are ultimately to lose the debate, do little for one's mental health.

We have just completed existing in a period of pure nonchalance, but curiously enough, we agree that to live the life of the idle for too long a period of time is harmful to one's sense of belonging and being needed.

All of us, as we wend our way through this adventure called life, demand and fight for acceptance and recognition by our peers and superiors. It's difficult to carry out the battle from an idler's position.

We are back to work now. Batteries have been recharged and belt buckles let out two notches. The lint and fuzziness have been purged from our head, and we are in fact now ready to get back to the very important obligation (privilege?) of earning a living.

Future columns, for a while at least, will again be directed toward the hospital and the people who make it work.

From the State Senate

Tough deliberations gain budget agreement

Prior to adjourning for the summer, the Michigan Legislature struggled with relative success to reach a tentative agreement on the 1977-78 budget for the State of Michigan. Through intense deliberations and cooperation on the part of the Governor's staff, members of the House and my fellow Senators we were able to agree on a budget that will allow us to continue providing the services people of Michigan have come to expect. In addition, the 1977-78 budget will allow the Legislature to better plan for Michigan's future. By looking ahead we can assure Michigan residents that the services available today will also be available tomorrow when Michigan's economy might be dimmed by falling revenues.

While the budget has not been signed into law because of stalemates over the Detroit freeway patrol issue and the transportation budget, the Legislature has established a solid financial plan that I believe will prove to be responsible and efficient.

My optimism over the legislature's work stems from the budget stabilization fund incorporated into the 1977-78 financial picture and the $75 million we subsequently appropriated to that fund. The concept of a budget stabilization fund is a new one for Michigan which historically has been required to approve a balanced budget. However, in recent years when unemployment rates rose and personal income decreased Michigan experienced serious cash flow problems that in many cases jeopardized state supported services.

With this new "rainy day" fund Michigan can place revenues aside during peak economic periods, invest those funds, and use them to offset falling revenues during any period of economic uncertainty we might experience in the future.

During the final 37-hour marathon session the House and Senate reached agreements on a number of budgets including the budget for Grants and Transfers at $655.6 million; Social Services at $2,346.3 million; General Government expenditures at $251.7 million; and Mental Health at $383.7 million.

Also approved and sent to the Governor was a bill for the K-12 Education programs. Not only will this budget provide an estimated $986.5 million in guaranteed state aid to local districts but it will expand funding for declining enrollments. Through this concept, which I sponsored last year, school districts losing state aid because of declining enrollments will receive additional funding to help them meet fixed costs. The 1977-78 budget will provide $6 million in this area as opposed to the $2 million recommended by the Governor.

The obvious problem still to be resolved by the Legislature and the Governor is the police patrol of Detroit area freeways. The question is whether the State Police troopers will continue to patrol Detroit area freeways, or, whether the Wayne County Sheriff's deputies will assume those duties with the State of Michigan bearing the cost. Just prior to our summer recess the Legislature agreed to retain the State Police freeway patrols but proposed a $1 million grant to Wayne County, the establishment of a special committee to study police services and a $6 million appropriation to fund any recommendations made by that committee.

While the Governor has opposed most of the agreements reached between the House and Senate, we will continue to work on the problems so they are resolved when the Legislature reconvenes in mid-September.

I believe the people of Michigan can be pleased with the work of the Legislature and the 1977-78 budget for a number of reasons.

First, we were able to meet our self imposed deadlines in preparing the 1977-78 budget prior to our summer recess. While this may seem inconsequential to the average citizen, the tentative budget agreement will prove beneficial to state agencies. Those agencies will now have more time to effectively plan for the services they must provide during the coming year as the next fiscal year does not begin until October 1, 1977.

Second, by approving the budget on schedule the Legislature is now at liberty to

The Majority Leader
State Senator William Faust
13th District

consider other issues placed on the back-burner this spring in lieu of the budget. Issues such as anti-redlining legislation, expanded definitions of sex education in the schools and nursing home reform.

I am confident that our willingness to negotiate throughout this summer on the transportation and Detroit freeway patrol issues, along with our work this spring have proven to the public we did the job we were elected to perform. It is my hope the Legislature will continue to meet the challenge of approving effective legislation without delay when we reconvene in Lansing this September.

HOW opposed to sex education

Open Letter to the Editor:

Our organization and other groups as well as many individuals, concerned parents and teachers oppose the passage of House Bill No. 4425 which would allow the teaching of birth control in the public schools.

As you know, sex education is already included in the Michigan school curriculum. The material prepared by the Michigan Department of Education in 1974 entitled Minimum Performance Objectives for Health Education in Michigan states "after the sixth grade students will identify changes in feeling and emotions which occur during adolescence (feelings of strong affection, attraction to opposite sex, new relationships and problems developed, possible desire to masturbate)." (p. 49) Under the title "Sexual Behavior" the same source states, "By the end of the ninth grade students will demonstrate knowledge of problems and consequences which may be associated with masturbation, homosexuality, illegitimacy, prostitution and venereal disease."

Many parents and educators feel that this is more than enough and has not solved problems. It is important to note that since the early 60s the "experts" have been telling us that students need sex education in the schools. Yet the alarming increase in sexual activities, pregnancies, abortions, and VD rate increase parallel the introduction of sex education classes.

We feel that sex education in the public schools may be the problem, in some cases, not the solution.

Now House Bill No. 4425 would even bring into the classrooms materials such as the I.U.D., condoms, the pill, rhythm charts, spermicidal cream, foams, all chemical contraceptives, sterilization, etc. Those who promote the teaching of birth control in the schools say that the family is not doing a good job of teaching their children about sex so the schools must assume the responsibility and do the job. But let's look at the record.

In December, 1975 NEWSWEEK indicted the U.S. educational system for "spawning a generation of semi literates, A Detroit Free Press article (April 15, 77) stated "Ten percent of the freshman at the University of Illinois Chicago Circle Campus can read no better than the average eighth grader". And another article in the Detroit News last August tells us "By most measures student achievement is now below the national average of a decade ago. "...Many teachers and college professors have become acutely aware of the shortcoming of students in what they bring to the classroom in the way of knowledge about mathematics, history the English language and other subjects."

One may ask "ARE THE SCHOOLS DOING THEIR JOB?"

It is true that some families do not fulfill their responsibility to educate their children as far as giving them proper sex education. But most families are trying very hard to train their children to accept certain values regarding sex based on religion, tradition or family customs. And we strongly feel that the teaching of birth control in the schools would interfere with this intention since no moral instruction can accompany birth control education in the public schools.

The Research Task Force of HOW, Inc. had spent many years researching educational, governmental documents, reports of eminent doctors, teachers, and parents.

We have studied the dangers of the various contraceptive devices, as well as the newly discovered effects and side effects of the contraceptive pill. And we can not in good conscience support a bill that would cause our most precious possession, our children, to be used as guinea pigs.

Parents are often disturbed when they learn that sex education is often given without required parental permission and is "bootlegged" under such misleading titles as "human growth and development", Practical arts, Home Economics etc.

In view of these considerations we sincerely urge you to vote "no" to a bill that many feel is a usurpation of parent's rights.

Festival coverage hit

To the Belleville Enterpriser,
Is Belleville's Strawberry festival a farce? I was so pleased to read that Belleville was going to put its name on the map. The idea sounded great, but what happened?

I thought the coverage given to it by this paper was very poor. If one of the biggest attractions was the strawberry shortcake eating contest by celebrities of the press then where was a picture of the press contestants, with someone as well known as Nancy McCauley?

Why 2 pictures of Jim Richendollar, we see him all the time and what news media is he with? I feel that it was a big come-on on the part of the newspaper.

There was a write-up on how Jim Richendollar won and what he ate under both his pictures and the same information and wording in the article that you already knew from reading under the pictures. Don't you think once would have been enough?

A nice picture of Bob Memmmering but not one picture of the shortcake! I gave you 3 weeks to give the people more, to make them want to come next year, but other than Jim Richendollars and this weeks (July 13) paper, where we have Jim Bradley giving out pats on the back I don't see that much went on. What happened to the (June 15 B.E.) hot air balloon flights which were to be two cents per lb. per person? That might have been fun to see.

If "Charles Paas was to be publicity man for the extravaganza." (B.E. June 15) I sure hope he has a talk with the Belleville paper because if you ask me the coverage of the event got the berries!

I want to say that I think the idea of the festival is great — I am glad to see it going on and the church did a great job, but why not let the people see the fun.

By the way, we had a real good time on Sunday when my husband won the "open to the public" Strawberry shortcake eating contest. But you never heard about that because he's just a Ford worker at Ypsilanti, Don Higgins.

Good luck next year Strawberry Capital because if you were to read the paper you'd never know it.

How soon we forget

To the editor:

Isn't it odd how soon people forget? A few years ago in an advisory note the people of this state said that the age of majority should not be lowered from 21 years to 18. A couple of years later our legislature in it's infinite wisdom? lowered the age of majority to 18.

So we sow the wind and reap the whirlwind, with more crime and mayhem, in particular the teen age driver.

One thing I can't understand is how we can eulogize a senator now deceased whose personal convictions were always put ahead of those of his constituents?

Our new senator in Washington may not be a ball of fire but he sure is an improvement over the previous one.

Thanks, Jim

Dear Mr. Bradley,

We want to thank you and let you know that we greatly appreciate the article you wrote about Anita Bryant "On the Brighter Side."

We admire Anita and Bob very much and for all people that will stand up for God and be counted for his cause. We thank God for a free America, that we can stand up and express our God-given convictions according to Holy Scriptures which call sin, sin and thanking him for giving us love for the sinner not condemning the sinner but the sin.

Anita is doing a great work for our young people and this great America of ours, trying to preserve the great heritage that God has helped our forefathers to leave for us. Also the freedom that many Americans have sacrificed and given their lives for.

Anita is also trying to see that this great heritage is left in a pure and healthy condition to pass on to our children, grandchildren and future generations.

We pray that God will continue to Bless her; we also thank God for writers like you that will call sin, sin and stand up for your godly convictions.

The Press and reporters is so very important and powerful influencing the direction of our great nation.

Our prayer that God will raise up more men with God given convictions in the field of reporting news.

Sent in the precious love of Jesus,

Condemns news item against Anita

To the Editor:

After reading the editorial regarding the Anita Bryant crusade I am prompted to reply to the near obscene and slanderous manner in which she was criticized. She is so right in condemning the condoning of homosexuals—not only them—that could also cover the rapists, drunks, etc. None of these can possibly hope to inherit God's coming Kingdom.

As is plainly cited in the Holy Scriptures according to Rom. 1:24-32, also Gal. 5:19-21. Concluding exactly the selfsame words as Miss Bryant quoted them, saying that all those who practiced such filthy things would in no wise enter therein.

We are seeing those signs all about us more and more clearly each day. For example the ruling of the Supreme Court last week in handing down the decision that for no other reason than failing to report to work on Saturday, their day of worship, Seventh Day Adventists could be summarily fired.

The Bible does not lie. In Matt. 24:15 it is written that is will not pass away. At Gal. 6:7 we are told that God is not mocked nor deceived. Those doing so in their repudiation of Him and His Holy word will most certainly stand in judgment of His error for so answering Miss Bryant and those that most precious gift of all—everlasting life.

Call it what you will, Crusade for Decency or even more aptly Crusade for Christ. Let God be found there though every man be called a liar—Rom. 3:4. Praise the Lord, His Truth is marching on. Let us too continually march on until we are able to completely forget that disgraceful letter that was published in the Washington Press.

Kid language??

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

The biggest hazard in being a parent is in not knowing what your kid is really thinking. When I said this to my friend, Amy, who doesn't have any kids, she said, "What do you mean? All you can hear anymore is kids spouting off at the mouth."

"But what they say and what you think they are saying are two different things," I told her. So I took her home to dinner one evening.

My kids' father had cooked the dinner, which is why all of the kids were standing around the table drooling and nodding muttering, "Bad...bad...Man, is that BAD?"

Naturally that got the starch in Amy's feathers starchier and she leaped over George (our dog) and grabbed at one of my kids' shirts and got a hand full of hair.

"Listen," she said. "That is no way to talk about your father's cooking. Here he's slaved over a hot stove all afternoon and..."

"That's what I said, Bad, man, bad..." my kids squirmed out of her grasp and went on dancing around the table drooling and talking the language that only kids understand.

But George (our dog) was a little indignant that a perfect stranger had grabbed the hair of one of his best friends and he leaped over the chair growling and grabbed Amy's purse and started playing hide-and-go seek with it.

By the time Amy and the head of our house and all the kids had cornered George (our dog) and gotten the purse, Amy was pretty huffy. She stuck up her nose, patted her hair, gripped her purse and wouldn't stay for dinner.

All of my kids watched her haughty exit and in one voice breathed, "Weird." But then, sometimes kids don't really know what parents are saying, either. A few weeks ago our youngest one who has been having a particularly frenzied struggle through adolescence, came home after having spent three weeks in Virginia.

There was a rosy glow all over the house when the pretty kid came in and kissed her father on his bald spot and plopped down and cradled George (our dog) in her arms, crooning and sighing, while George licked her elbow and ate up her right shoe.

The glow lasted for several days and then one evening my beautiful child said to me, "Mom, will you tell me the utter, utmost truth?"

"Of course I will," I told her. "Swear to God to strike you dead if you don't tell the truth?" she insisted.

Naturally I told her I would tell her the utter, utmost truth, even though I knew I had my fingers crossed, because when is any mother ever going to promise to tell her kid the utter, utmost truth?

And then my little girl said, "Mom, am I dying?"

"Are you what?" I shouted.

"Am I dying?" she asked again.

"Of course you aren't dying," I answered. "Whatever gave you that idea?"

"Then why is Dad being so nice to me?" she asked.

Talk about unfair

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (CNF) — I have a friend in the publishing business who for 14 years has been sending out the books he prints through the post office at the book rate. Officials have regularly inspected and approved these shipments. Recently Chuck was notified they'd redesignated his publication as a catalog because it gives data on all Congressmen and their staffs, and must be mailed at a higher rate. Furthermore he must now pay the difference in postage for what he's mailed the past 14 years.

The story was told at a National Research Council workshop about a man faced with high fuel costs. He thereupon worked out a plan to drill shallow wells in nearby coal fields to help relieve a methane problem they were having, then gather this gas, process it for use in a plant he owned, at half the cost of what he was paying for fuel. But he had to cross a state line, which made him subject to federal officials, who banned the project because they considered the gas cost too high. The methane continues to endanger the miners and pollute the air.

Then there was the man who made a little money and invested in a small gas well in Louisiana. He was offered a contract. The federal officials involved said they'd authorize a rate 20 per cent less than he'd been offered, give him a "temporary" permit, which meant they could at any time decide to lower the rate and require him to repay the difference on all he'd invested and forget it; whereupon he was issued a "permanent" certificate, which was to protect him against retroactive rollbacks. The well was eventually abandoned; the return did not pay even for the cost of drilling.

Thereupon, lo and behold, our investor received a letter from U.S. officials, saying they had rolled back the price another 25 per cent, and that he owed something over $40,000 plus interest. This amateur gas driller protested he'd been given a "permanent" certificate and they couldn't do this to him. Oh yes they could, the reply came back. They'd canceled his permanent certificate and not notified him. So pay up.

Some months back, Dow Chemical reported federal regulations cost it $14 million a year. The company thought $87 million justified, believed $50 million was due to excessive regulation and $10 million more of questionable value.

In the end, you and I pay. Producers pass these costs on.

The problem does not seem to lie in regulations necessary for our safety and welfare, but rather in rulings of doubtful value, kept on the books nevertheless.

Even more onerous and costly are arbitrary decisions by minor officials hidden in the bureaucracy — men we cannot reach as ordinary citizens — whose opinions, however costly and senseless, can be overcome only by expensive lobbyists or through lengthy legal battles.

Few of us can afford these remedies.

The rotating pulpit

The question is 'What must I do?'

The question, "What must I do?", and its equivalent, "What shall I do?", are found four times in the New Testament of Jesus Christ. Men guided by the Holy Spirit of God answered these questions, and their answers are in the Bible. We shall notice each of these in the order in which they appear in the New Testament.

A rich young man came to Jesus asking: "Teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" Matt 19:16. Jesus responded by telling him to keep the commandments. These the young man had kept. Jesus then told him to sell all he had and to give the proceeds to the poor and come follow Him.

This question occurs the second time in Acts 2:37. Peter had just told the Jews that they had crucified the Son of God, who has been made both Lord and Christ. The Jews believed what Peter said, and upon the basis of this belief they questioned: "What shall we do?" Peter replied: "Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." Acts 2:38. Peter told these believing Jews to repent and be baptized so that their sins would be forgiven.

The third time this question appears is in Acts 16:30. This time it was asked by the keeper of the jail in Philippi, who was a nonbeliever. Paul and Silas told this pagan unbeliever: "Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house." Acts 16:32.

The final occurrence of this question is in Acts 22:10. Acts Chapter nine is the same incident. Saul of Tarsus asked this question as he approached Damascus with intentions of persecuting Christians. Jesus appeared to Saul, which brought him to faith in Jesus as being the son of God. Now believing that Jesus is the Son of God, Saul asks: "What shall I do, Lord?" The Lord told him to go into Damascus and there he would be told what he must do. Three days later God sent Ananias to Saul, who had now been without food and drink for three days and nights (Acts 9:9). The man of God — Ananias — told this believing penitent sinner, Saul of Tarsus: "And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on his name." Acts 22:16.

Each of these men was given a different answer to the same question because he was at a different place on the road to salvation. Should you ask "how far is it from here to Grand Rapids" in Ann Arbor, Jackson and Kalamazoo, a different answer would be given. The answer would be determined by your location at the time of the question.

If you are a pagan as the jailor in Acts 16 you have the process of faith to span. But if you are a believer in God and Jesus as the Son of God, and have repented of your sins as Paul had done, you would be told to "arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sins." Acts 22:16.

Where are you on the road to salvation from your past sins? Start where you are and complete the journey so that your sins will be taken away.

- (4) Planning and Management-updating previous studies, housing, land use, assessment of environmental implications of new construction activities.

This $157,000 Grant is to continue projects implemented in the first and second year of Romulus Community Development Program. The first of these projects were subjected to an environmental review at their inception and were found to have NO SIGNIFICANT EFFECT ON THE ENVIRONMENT for these projects. An environmental review record covering these projects is available for examination at the Community Development Administration, Romulus City Hall (address given below).
City of Romulus will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. City of Romulus is certifying to HUD that City of Romulus and James C. Stewart, in his official capacity as Mayor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decisionmaking, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, City of Romulus may use the Block Grant funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) That the certification was not in fact executed by the chief executive officer of the applicant; or (b) that applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD at U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, McNamara Building, 477 Michigan Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226. Objections to the release of funds on basis other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after August 18, 1977 will be considered by HUD.

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Romulus will hold a Public Hearing on August 9, 1977, at 7:00 P.M. in the Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objection to and/or having reason to support the issuance of an Industrial Development District for Overhead Crane and Service Corporation as outlined in the following resolution.

8D. Motion by Martin, supported by McAnally, to adopt Resolution 77-440, (Setting of Public Hearing: Establishment of Industrial Development District):

RESOLUTION 77-440

WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of Public Acts of 1974 as amended, is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan; and

WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax levy is at least thirty (30) mills may establish an industrial development district and offer industrial firms certain property tax incentives to attract new plants to the area; and

WHEREAS: Said act provides that a firm may apply for and be issued an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate which entitles the facility to exemption from ad valorem real and personal property taxes for a period of twelve (12) years. In lieu of the property tax, the firm will pay a specific tax known as the Industrial Facility Tax. The Industrial Facility tax for a new plant in an industrial development district is determined by the ad valorem property tax levied by the municipality instead, however, of using the total mills levied, only half the millage rate is applied; and

WHEREAS: Said Act provides that seventy-five (75 percent) percent of the owners of property to be affected by any proposed industrial development district may apply to the local governmental unit for the establishment of an industrial development district; and

WHEREAS: The Overhead Crane and Service Corporation did, on July 20, 1977, submit a request to the City of Romulus to establish an industrial development district, its description as follows:

On Aug. 9

TV-56 to show 'Trouble'

Leonard Bernstein's short and witty "Trouble in Tahiti" encores on "Opera Theater" at 9 p.m. Aug. 9, on Channel 56. A repeat broadcast airs Aug. 13 at 3 p.m.

Bernstein conducts the London Symphonic Wind band for this production, for which he also wrote the lyrics. "Trouble in Tahiti" is considered to be one of his "popular" works — like "Fancy Free" and "West Side Story".

The music is jazz-based and brightly scored, with brisk movement and an impressive rhythmic grace. Mezzo-soprano Nancy Williams and bass-baritone Julian Patrick sing the lead roles.

Lighthearted, but pointed, the opera satirizes suburban life in the 1950s. The plot follows Sam (Patrick) and Dinah (Williams) through a typical day of the "good life".

From the "little white house", Sam goes off to assert himself at the office, then beats the punching bag at the gym. Dinah goes to seek peace of mind at her analyst's, then to buy a new hat and see a movie called "Trouble in Tahiti", which is actually Bernstein's spoof of 50s films.

Harvest time heralds arrival of country fairs

What the farm folks have been up to during the spring and summer will be heralded during the month of August, which is country fair time in Michigan, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

More than 40 county fairs are scheduled throughout Michigan during the month serving as a background for display of prime livestock, produce and those goodies that come out of the farm kitchens. Entertainment, contests and midway carnivals will add to the festiveness of the events.

The granddaddy of all fairs — the Michigan State Fair — opens its doors at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit on Aug. 26 continuing through Labor Day.

Old car buffs have a triple treat in store for them during the month with three old car meets scheduled. The first is a national meet, which brings together owners of old Lincoln cars, vintage 1921-1940, at Greenfield Village on Aug. 6. On the 20th of the month, also at Greenfield Village, owners of 1910-1971 Rolls Royce autos converge for their national meet. The next day, Aug. 21, antique autos of any make and model will be on public display at Charleton Park in Hastings.

Other events included in the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events, compiled and published by the Travel Bureau, include the Drum Corps International Regional Championship at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti on Aug. 4. More than 3,700 participants from the United States and Canada will compete for the championship. Spectators and participants are expected from throughout the midwest, the eastern United States and Ontario.

Ypsilanti's High School Drum and Bugle Corps, the Highlanders, will be the host unit for the event.

Across the state, in southwestern Michigan, the community of Coloma will state its annual Gladiolus Festival on Aug. 5-7.

Ethnic heritage will be observed with two Polish festivals both falling on the same days, Aug. 5-7. The community of Boyne Falls will celebrate a Polish Festival during that period as will Waydottet. The traditional Danish Festival is scheduled for Aug. 19-20 at Greenville.

The art of legerdemain and spoofery will be the center of attention when amateur and professional magicians converge on Colon for the annual Magic-Get-Together Aug. 10-13. The public is invited during any of the days to watch scheduled and impromptu performances of magicians plying their respective skills.

At Millington, northeast of Flint, the Millington Summer Fest will be held Aug. 11-14, while the V-J Day Celebration will be observed Aug. 13-14 at Crystal Fall. Also in the Upper Peninsula a Frisbee Tournament is scheduled at Cliffs Ridge Ski Area in Marquette Aug. 13-14.

In the Keweenaw Peninsula, residents and visitors will be gathering Aug. 14-21 for the Copperport USA Festival at Calumet. Back in the Lower Peninsula, Lake City will be sponsoring the annual Street Fair and Corn Roast Aug. 13.

Reception honors pair

Golden bells peal for Jeters

There was a touch of gold to the celebration as more than 90 friends and relatives gathered at Leright's Banquet Room in Westland to help Cletis and Ova Jeter celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Tables for guests were decorated with bud vases containing gold satin flowers and ferns, while the head table was bedecked with an arrangement of gold flowers and a large candle, representing the Jeters' 50 years of marriage. A large barrel, covered with netting and gold flowers and accented with two large wedding rings and doves, occupied the gift table and was used to collect cards for the jubilarian couple. The decorations were by Mrs. Miller Noffsinger, Mrs. Jeter's niece.

A 3-tiered cake, decorated in white and gold and made by Mrs. Ross Parker of Wayne, Sunday School teacher of the Friendship Bible Class of the First Baptist Church of Wayne, of which the Jeters are members of the congregation.

Present for the celebration were the Jeters' three children—son Harold, who flew in from Garden Grove, Calif.; daughter Jeanette Murphy, and her husband, Donald, of Livonia, and son John of Wayne—and grandchildren Michelle Hall and her husband, Randy, of Belleville, Cheryl Young, and her husband, Fred, of Wayne, and Valerie and Tara Jeter of Redford. Unable to attend the party were grandchildren Kevin, Guy and Greg Jeter of Garden Grove, Calif.

Travelling from Marion, Ill., for the party were Jeter's two brothers and their families—Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jeter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Dodig and Dr. Everett Jeter. Mrs. Jeter's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fred of Cave City, Ky., and their family members from Allen Park, Plymouth and Trenton also attended the party. And making the trip from Franklin, Tenn., was Mrs. Jeter's sister, Mrs. Bertha Bolton, and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Savage.

Other party guests came from Rockford, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo., as well as Haslett, Mich., Taylor, Livonia, Redford, Romulus, Plymouth, Detroit, Westland, Allen Park, Trenton and Wayne.

Jeter, a native of Marion, Ill., met his wife of 50 years while working in Lakeland, Fla., for the Lock Joint Pipe Co. Following their courtship, the couple exchanged their "I do's" on July 5, 1927.

In relating the history of her parents' 50 years together, Mrs. Murphy told party guests: "This was the beginning of many years of travelling and living in different places. Dad's work kept him relocating for 19 years."

Each of the Jeters' three children was born in a different state—Harold was born in Roselle, N.J., Jeanette in Brooklyn, N.Y., and John in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Our education was 'broadened' with Harold attending 23 schools, and myself, 19," Mrs. Murphy added. "John's schooling was in the Wayne area."

The Jeters moved to Wayne in 1946, and after 44½ years of service, Jeter retired from the Lock Joint Pipe Co. A dog lover, Jeter is spending his retirement years carrying for man's best friend and hunting as well as tending his garden, described by Mrs. Murphy as "pretty as a picture".

Mrs. Jeter keeps busy with her canning and freezing, with her interests including "taking a dish (of food) to someone in need" and the Friendship Bible Class.

Cornmeal Pancake Roll-ups

These Cornmeal Pancake Roll-Ups, "melting-pot pancakes," have in them elements of south-of-the-border, European and American cooking — and like our diverse population, they're all the better for the mixture.

Cornmeal pancakes are cousins of tortillas, so popular in Mexico and our own southwest. The sausages that nestle neatly inside and the applesauce that's spooned on top came with our forebears from northern Europe. And the Log Cabin syrup that adds the crowning touch is as all-American as the leisurely Sunday brunch.

You'll want to serve the syrup hot to go with these special pancakes. Warming syrup is an easy job if you have a heat-proof carafe. If not, simply heat syrup in a small saucepan and serve from a pitcher.

For the times when plain pancakes or waffles are your breakfast choice, prepare Orange Sherry Sauce as a special treat. Grated orange rind and a bit of sherry wine blend with the pancake and waffle syrup for distinctive flavor.

Cornmeal Pancake Roll-ups

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup yellow cornmeal
- 2½ cups milk
- 1 egg, well beaten
- ¼ cup shortening, melted
- Hot cooked link sausages
- Applesauce
- Pancake and waffle syrup

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Mix in cornmeal. Combine milk, egg and shortening; add gradually to the flour mixture, stirring only until smooth. Using ¼ cup batter for each pancake, bake on hot griddle, turning to brown both sides. Place a sausage on each pancake, roll and serve with applesauce and syrup. Makes about 16 servings.

Orange Sherry Sauce

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- ¾ cup pancake and waffle syrup
- one-third cup sherry wine
- ¼ cup orange juice
- 2 teaspoon grated orange rind

Melt butter in a small saucepan; blend in cornstarch. Stir in remaining ingredients. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 2 or 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve warm or cool over pancakes or waffles. Makes about 1½ cups.

Sunday breakfast winners

Take advantage of the beautiful summer weather and plan a Sunday morning brunch out on the patio, porch or deck. For that something special for your guests, turn out Cornmeal Pancake Roll-ups with one of two different toppings

Try rotisserie beef roast

Place a 5 to 6-pound boneless beef cross rib roast (tied) in a large plastic bag. Combine ½ cups tomato juice, ¼ cup each lime juice and salad oil, 1 tablespoon each brown sugar and Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon hot sauce. Stir and pour into bag with meat. Tie bag securely and place in pan in refrigerator; marinate 6 to 8 hours or overnight, turning occasionally. Remove meat, reserving marinade; insert rod, balance and tighten spit forks. Insert roast meat thermometer at a slight angle, so bulb is centered in the thickest part but not resting in fat or on rod. Place on rotisserie over ash-covered coals and roast at moderate temperature to desired doneness: 140 degrees F. for rare; 160 degrees F. for medium. Brush with marinade occasionally during roasting. (Allow 2 to 3 hours cooking time). Let roast stand 20 minutes before carving into thin slices.

CHRIS KLUCZEWSKI

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Belleville may not seem like a very fascinating place to those who've lived here a long time. But to a visitor, particularly one who lives behind the Iron Curtain, it not only is fascinating, it's nearly unbelievable.

What Krzysiek Kluczewski (who's called "Chris") finds MOST interesting is our homes — the many comforts and conveniences we enjoy with just a flick of a button or switch.

Chris arrived at Detroit Metro Airport July 16 after clearing customs in New York and was met by his host family, Wally and Dorothy Skszek; Wally being his parents' cousin. Twenty-one-year-old Chris, a second year college student in Kiev, Russia, hails from the small village of Niegownice near Czesochowa. Among the many activities planned for Chris' enjoyment were visits to the campuses of the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University.

Since his arrival, Chris has been part of a continuous "tour" including the shopping malls at Fairlane, Briarwood, Westland and Southland; the Renaissance Center in Detroit; world-famous Greenfield Village, and the General Motors plant.

He has a few "firsts" recorded in his memory such as his introduction to the all-American hot dog while on a cruise to Bob-lo and his first taste of pizza while trying his luck with one of the electronic games at Little Caesar's. That particular dining experience followed the ballgame he attended which his cousin's son-in-law, Bill Mida, played in as part of the Little Caesar's team. One of the few sentences Chris has mastered in English is "I like baseball."

The Skszeks also figured bowling to be another "typically American" pastime so saw that Chris tried his prowess in the strikes and spares competition. He also was treated to a free tennis lesson and some sporty gear at The Peak in Ann Arbor and then shocked his host and hostess and their daughter and son-in-law, Karen and Bill Mida, with his knowledge of the "bump" and "hustle" when they took him to Napoleon's Disco in Plymouth.

On the 24th of July he was introduced to other members of the Skszek family at a picnic held at Wally and Dorothy's Expressway Drive home. Chris, the first of the Skszek clan to come to America since Wally's parents, was welcomed by the Stan Matykas of Detroit; Rene Rogatski of St. Clair Shores; Dolores Jurko and daughters from Royal Oak; Stan and Francis Stevens and their family from Garden City; and local relatives: Rose Phillips, Joyce Phillips and family; Stan and Stephanie Soja and the Bill Midas.

Before his departure date, Aug. 8, Chris still has a visit to the Skszek's cottage and the north woods in Onaway to which he can look forward. That trip will also encompass the Soo Locks, Mackinac Island and the Mackinac Bridge.

We're sure Chris will long remember his fun-filled, interesting three weeks in this one small, but fascinating, section of the United State of America.

Evening party honors Laura

Laura Maxwell of Romulus, who's to become the bride of Rodney Hicks this summer, was the guest of honor July 22 at a miscellaneous shower held at the A. Hicks home on Herman Street.

Guests from Taylor, Dearborn, Romulus and Cumberland, Ky. attending the outdoor festivities at eight in the evening, were seated at five tables set with bouquets of wild flowers picked from along the railroad track on Sterling Street by the Maynard Hicks family.

A watermelon shell filled with fresh fruit served as centerpiece, the colorful

Day camp held for area scouts

Willow Metro Park was the site of the Day Camp which Romulus Brownies and Junior Girl Scouts of the Southern Wayne and Monroe County Area Association enjoyed for four fun-filled days July 11-14.

Thirty-five girls under the direction of Connie Morris and several assisting parents, learned many ways to be efficient scouts. The girls were divided into units and named themselves the Blue Bums, Tangerines, Green Grapes and Banana Splits.

Among the activities enjoyed were soap carving, tie dying, sewing swishy bags for washing dishes, visiting the nature center at Oakwoods Metro Park, hiking, swimming and painting ceramics.

Cooking lunch on charcoal fires was a highlight of one day when the girls prepared sloppy soup, beany weenies and chicken soup.

Parents assisting were Gayle Nash, Ruby Ursiny, Mary Brown, Sylvia Winekoff, Annette Wehrmeister, Nancy Coons, Cindy Gutowski, Mary Jo Kopas, Phyllis Faulkner and Ernie Gentz.

medley being served along with tostados, tortillas, potato and tuna salad and punch.

Josephine Wood was the lucky winner of the door prize — a macrame hanger made by Judy Linderman of Romulus.

Showers herald pending wedding

Peg Stone, whose August 19 wedding is fast approaching, has been caught up in a whirlwind of pre-nuptials activities — the best of which have been three bridal showers where she received oodles of lovely gifts to use after she becomes Mrs. James Robert Krizan.

On Sunday afternoon, July 17, she and her fiancé shared the honors at a huge family picnic-shower attended by men, women and children from Lake City, Farmington, Sterling Heights, Kalamazoo, Wyandotte, Canton, Dearborn, Detroit and Romulus.

Held at the Dearborn home of the future bridegroom's aunt, Helen Montre, the party was co-hosted by Louise Krizan of Lake City. Sixty well-wishers, mostly relatives and close friends of the Krizan family, enjoyed dining on picnic fare beneath a huge maple tree which shaded the entire yard. The distaff side then moved indoors to take care of the feminine interests in the event — bridal bingo and the gift presentation. Two of Peg's future attendants, Joyce Jonas of Mt. Clemens and Judy Krizan of Canton, were there to give her a hand with the packages.

The third in the series of parties planned for Peg was the bridal shower luncheon given July 23 by her aunt, Loraine Thorn of Detroit.

For the one o'clock get-together Mrs. Thorn was assisted by her four daughters, Sister Jacqueline Thorn of Detroit; Barb Carrette of Holly; and the two at home, Linda and Patti.

The group, mostly aunts, cousins and family of the bride-elect, came from Detroit, Harper Woods, Grosse Pointe, Warren, St. Clair Shores, Garden City, Mt. Clemens, Canton and Belleville for the afternoon party.

The 25 guests dined together, played card bingo and then saw Peg's many household and personal gifts unwrapped and displayed. Carol Hunter of Garden City joined the two other members of the bridal coterie, Judy Krizan and Joyce Jonas, in caring for the ribbons and wrappings.

34th District Judge James B. Stone will walk his daughter up the aisle of St. Anthony's Catholic Church on her wedding day, August 19.

Judy Frydrych is "showered"

Guests from Livonia, Ann Arbor, Southgate, Allen Park, Dearborn, Lincoln Park, Ypsilanti and Belleville gathered at the Bert Smith home on Edison Lake Road July 23 for a bridal shower luncheon honoring Judy Frydrych, the fiancée of her neighbor's son, David Duane.

Held on a picture-perfect summer afternoon, the party took place outdoors on the deck of the Smith home which was arranged with tables for 21 people and where planter's punch was served prior to the salad luncheon. The hostess, assisted by her daughters, Sue and Carol, used yellow and orange for the table appointments which were complete with miniature arrangements of fresh marigolds.

Before the honoree got to her gifts, she and her well-wishers were involved in a few games which made prize winners of Michele Everard and Mary Anne Hodge of Ann Arbor; Bev Lewis of Ypsilanti; Judy Baruzzini of Dearborn and Debbie Duane and Pat Guenther of Belleville.

A special guest appearance by a "little old-fashioned lady" was the highlight of the gift-opening session. Created by the future bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Jack Turtle of Lincoln Park, the mannequin (which stood about four feet tall) was fashioned entirely of usable items for Judy's and Dave's new home. The bouffant table cloth "skirt", which was accented with a "bustle" of placemats, covered a round clothes basket filled with dozens of individually wrapped gifts, each with a special little poem or note of instructions attached.

Helen Frydrych and Maxine Heifner, mothers of the bridal pair, were among those attending. Their daughter and son will exchange nuptial vows at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville on August 12.

Cookout season revives interest in beef kabobs

Broiled kabobs, so popular at summer cookouts, aren't really new — they're just better. The idea of cooking meat on skewers actually originated hundred of years ago when ancient nomads speared pieces of meat on their swords to roast over open campfires.

The difference between now and then is a considerably more pleasurable dining experience. For today's beef, unlike most of the wild game that provided a meal after the hunt in those early days, is a tender, quality product—bred and fed for eating satisfaction. Then too, modern cookery calls for marinating less tender beef cuts to be broiled. Cuts such as round steak are readied for broiling by cutting in strips before marinating. In addition, fruits and vegetables have been added to the skewers as appetizing accompaniments.

Skewer cookery offers mealtime variety that the whole family will enjoy. Kabobs, allowing for past preparation and cleanup, are especially great during the grill season. These samples promise a carnival of cookout fun and surprises, says Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board home economist.

Among senior citizens

Handling memory loss

By MAUREEN BEATY

Many excellent suggestions were made at a reality training class I attended last month. The following instructions could be applied by adult children who have senior family members, with memory loss or behavioral problems (but not organic problems), living with them. If followed, the family as a unit should benefit.

The senior should be exposed to a "climate of expectancy". Don't fall into the pattern of "mothering" or "fathering" the senior, by doing for him what he is capable of doing for himself. Non-verbal hope can be conveyed, but it must be on a 24 hour a day basis, as part of day-to-day living. The older senior has a short attention span. Give simple instructions, enunciate clearly and repeat as often as necessary. Don't speak to him as if he were a child, and make it clear you expect him to act like an adult.

Be patient. The older adult needs a calm environment and set routine. If he becomes confused, don't let him remain that way; don't accept rambling speech and actions. Bring him back to the present by being as firm as necessary. Be sincere and consistent, and reward by touch.

Try to keep him occupied. All humans need a reason to get up, a reason to function. Remember the five senses diminish with age. Reds, oranges, and other bright colors are seen most clearly.

There are four basic needs of the aging:

(1) Survival needs — food, shelter, clothing, etc.

(2) Contributive needs — all humans want to feel they are contributing something to other family members.

(3) Participating needs — they must feel part of the family structure.

(4) The fourth need is broken down into three parts — the ability to face death, preparation for transcendence and end of life meaning. A person with strong beliefs can better accept this phase of life, for what is this life, but a training ground for the next phase we shall all someday enter.

While helping the senior, remember other members of the family have rights, too. Don't allow the senior member to violate those rights.

The "Reality Training Course" was offered at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Allen Park, where they are taking forward steps in the total care of the elderly patient.

Jackson College is first to 'house' a space center

The only space center in the world on a college campus is housed under a gold geodesic dome at Jackson Community College (JCC), in Jackson.

Dedicated to the state's 13 astronauts with family and/or educational ties, the Michigan Space Center opened its doors to the public May 7.

An 85-foot Mercury Redstone Rocket in front of the building greets visitors, and after passing through a transition tunnel, individuals can trace the history of rocketry from early efforts to the future.

Exhibits include the original Apollo 9 capsule commanded by Jackson astronaut James A. McDivitt, moon rock, original Gemini, Mercury and Apollo space suits, a lunar surveyor, Mariner satellite and many other items.

An astro-theatre, canopied by a giant Apollo 9 parachute, features lectures and films related to space exploration. Other small screens located throughout the center explain the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo flights and the benefits derived from outer space experiments.

Displays in the Center will change periodically, as new exhibits become available from NASA, the Smithsonian Institution and other space centers. Other displays will be constructed and purchased.

The center is more than a museum. Its goal is education, not only to the on-campus students but to the school children of Michigan and the general public.

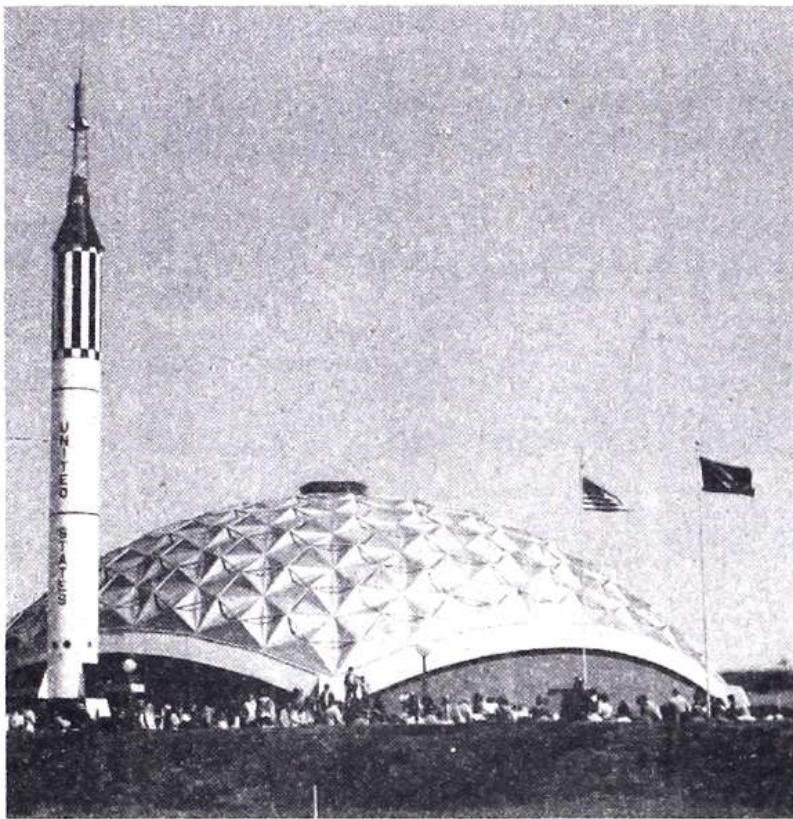

On-campus students are obtaining an added dimension in education — learning not only about the past and present, but also the future where they will be spending the rest of their lives.

An experiment prepared by two JCC engineering students may be orbiting the Earth in 1979. The project is under consideration by NASA to include in a Long Duration Exposure Facility satellite to be put into space by the space shuttle.

The experiment will test the effects of weightlessness on a disease causing bacteria, clostridium perfringens. The bacteria, which thrives under airless conditions, is a cause of intestinal flu.

The geodesic dome is 40 feet high and covers approximately 12,000 square feet. The building is warmed with radiant heat from electric mats buried in a bed of sand beneath the concrete slab floor.

Interior lighting comes from 10 1,000 watt flood lights, grouped in pairs around the building and reflecting off the ceiling. There are no permanent inside walls. The center can change shape as it evolves, providing more room for exhibits or expanding the gift shop, if necessary. The white, ceiling insulation is made of recycled newspaper ground into pulp and bleached, reflecting the environmentally conscious design of the building.

The center is the brainchild of its director, Charles E. Gass.

In 1971, the City of Jackson sponsored a sign contest which Gass entered. The purpose was to come up with a design promoting Jackson as the "Home of Astronauts James McDivitt and Al Worden".

Gass' idea of a cement structure with an attached space module placed second. But because he felt that more than a billboard was needed as a lasting tribute, he began searching for support for first an Astronauts' Museum and then the Space Center.

A committee of interested Jackson residents was formed in 1972. After years of planning and evaluating sites, the committee chose the college for the building. The state agreed to finance half of the $750,000 structure with JCC picking up the other half.

Several industries in Jackson have been directly involved in the space program, making parts which have circled the earth and even gone to the moon. Parts are still being used in satellites and for the Space Shuttle program. The Redstone Rocket in front of the Center was built by Chrysler Corp. in Warren.

The Center will act as a dispenser of up-to-date space technology to local businesses and industry, as well as to JCC students and the visiting public.

The Michigan Space Center is open daily throughout the year. It is located six miles south of Jackson off 127 South. Call (517) 787-4425 for further information, or write Michigan Space Center, Jackson Community College, 2111 Emmons Road, Jackson 49201.

"How can a 'Memory Book' help my child?"

When a child's father (or mother) dies, talking about the child's concerns and relieving his anxieties about the loss are important in working through the grief experience. The "Memory Book" is an effective device for this.

It is a scrapbook and keepsake in which the children may write down their memories of their parent or, if the children are too young to write, have the parent write as the children "talk it out."

The Memory Book helps because, in it, the children openly relate their shared experiences, feelings and remembrances. The remembering and talking about the deceased parent offers the proper outlet for grieving...and understanding and accepting the fact of the loss.

Photos of the parent may be put in the book, especially if the pictures include the children, thus aiding recall and discussion. The activity, itself, is important. It puts everything out in the open and into family talk. It will assist in providing good and stable remembrances of the deceased parent as the children grow up.

Henry Ford Museum undergoes remodeling

A major re-arrangement of its massive 8-acre Mechanical Arts Hall, one of the most extensive efforts of its kind ever undertaken, has been launched by Henry Ford Museum.

The project was announced by William Clay Ford, chairman of the Board of Trustees of The Edison Institute, the non-profit educational foundation that administers both the museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

Opened to the public in 1929 by the late Henry Ford, grandfather of the present Edison Institute board chairman, the indoor-outdoor restoration complex now is among the most popular such attractions in the world, last year drawing more than 1.7 million visitors.

The re-arrangement, part of a $16 million long-range development program begun in 1969, is scheduled for completion in 1979, when the Institute will observe its 50th anniversary.

Although the decorative arts galleries in the front of the museum will not be affected at this time, Ford said, the project will involve all seven of the museum's other principal curatorial areas — transportation, communication, lighting, power, machinery, home arts and agriculture.

He emphasized that the museum "will remain open and in full operation" during the course of the project.

"In fact, no large section of any curatorial area will be closed entirely to public view," he added. "Even while work is going on, visitors will be able to see what is taking place."

"Every effort will be made to avoid having work that's in any way disruptive take place during those times of the year when attendance is particularly heavy — in the summer months, for example."

Although the building itself will not be expanded, the project will provide "perhaps as much as 20 percent more display space" with the elimination of storage space within the museum.

To replace that storage space, a new study and storage center is being built which will house "study" collections that will continue to be accessible to researchers and others having a special interest.

Ford said the addition of several new shops to the present Street of Shops will "make it possible to put on public display a number of special collections the museum has amassed over the years but which it has rarely had adequate space to show."

A common reaction among museum visitors, he said, is that "many of them have no idea how much there is to see and how long they should have planned to stay."

"We can't add any more hours to the day, and it isn't practical for the museum and village to become round-the-clock operations," he added, "so we propose to do the next best thing as far as the museum is concerned. Without changing the basic character of the collections, we'll arrange them to illustrate significant aspects of American history and technology more clearly and concisely than is possible with our present arrangement."

The re-arrangement will treat key collection objects in what Ford described as a "representational" way.

He pointed out that, instead of being arranged in categories, objects of the same period will be grouped together to "demonstrate how Americans lived and worked at various times in history."

The project also calls for expanded labeling and signage, the refurbishing of all display cases and the installation of a completely new display system throughout the Mechanical Arts Hall. Color coding also will be introduced to identify the various curatorial areas.

Focal point displays will be installed in those areas to "highlight some of the treasures in the museum collections". Objects shown in those displays will be changed periodically "in order to expose the greatest number to the visiting public".

The largest single element in the project will be a 32,000-square-foot interpretive center, which will "help orient visitors as they enter the Mechanical Arts Hall and provide them with an overview of the curatorial areas by offering a representation of each of those areas."

American social, economic, political and commercial life will be illustrated by a series of time capsule displays in the interpretive center.

Parks fill the 'bill'

There are 10 Huron-Clinton Metroparks providing more than 14,646 acres of recreational land to serve the citizens of Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw and Wayne counties, stretching from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie.

These parks are Metro Beach Metropark (550 acres) along Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropark (4,000 acres) near Rochester-Utica, Marshbank Metropark (115 acres) southwest of Pontiac, Kensington Metropark (4,350 acres) near Milford, Hudson Mills Metropark (1,050 acres) 12 miles northwest of Ann Arbor, Dexter-Huron Metropark (125 acres) 7 miles northwest of Ann Arbor, Delhi Metropark (45 acres) 5 miles northwest of Ann Arbor, Lower Huron Metropark (1,200 acres) near Belleville, Willow Metropark (1,500 acres) near New Boston and Oakwoods Metropark (1,711 acres) near Flat Rock.

Vehicle Entry Permits are required and are $5 regular and $1 daily for senior citizens.

Although the building itself will not be expanded, the project will provide "perhaps as much as 20 percent more display space" with the elimination of storage space within the museum.

To replace that storage space, a new study and storage center is being built which will house "study" collections that will continue to be accessible to researchers and others having a special interest.

Spinning his way to fame

Ex-Inkster High cager Monty Lynn Upthegrove is the center attraction during the Professional All-Star Basketball Game, here at Milwaukee, Wis on Sunday, Feb. 13. Upthegrove has developed a basketball spinning act which captivates the fans. The celebrated spinner can "dunk", "go in for a lay-up" and do just about anything while spinning a basketball.

The Sports Meridian

The Spinner

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Monte Lynn Upthegrove probably spins a basketball better than any cager in the world.

And the 25-year-old former Inkster High athlete has done "his thing" before millions of TV audiences on the national networks during the All-Star games.

"Lynn the Spin" can twirl the ball on his finger and go in for a layup, "dunk" and "hook" and do almost anything he wants with a basketball while it's spinning on his finger or fingers.

"I love basketball," Upthegrove said, "but I was never really a 'star' as they say, so I had to specialize. What I did was to learn to spin the ball as few players have ever accomplished."

One of the reasons why Monte never made it on the high school scene was that he took up basketball when he was 16-years-old, too late to develop the skills that most youngsters learn at about the time they begin to walk.

And, in high school, Inkster coach George Thomas Jr. had an abundance of talent in the late sixties and in 1970. The Vikings had such players as all-stater Eartha Faust, William Ealey and Rickey Hatcher along with Duane Fox.

Upthegrove rode the bench most of his three years on varsity. "When you have players like Faust and Ealey around, well guys like me were inserted in the game after we had a 15 point lead or when we were trailing by 15—and that didn't happen very often," Monte candidly admits.

But the 6-1, 170-pound athlete wasn't ready to toss in the towel. He caught the eye of scouts from the Harlem Diplomats, a touring semi-professional team that copied the cage antics of the incomparable Harlem Globetrotters.

"Each of the Diplomats had a speciality," Upthegrove said, "and Diplomats coach Dick Harvey told me I would have to develop something that was eye-catching, so I began to spin the ball."

And Monte learned that the trick came effortlessly to him and he began to spin while "dunking the ball" and "driving in for a layup", "behind his back" — and you name it, he can do it with the ball.

In fact, "Lynn the Spin" became so good that CBS invited him to do his thing as a halftime show of the All-Star games. Upthegrove says he was a bit nervous during his first appearance, but the celebrated spinner had padded his act down so that "I've become nearly a model of steadiness."

But there is no financial ecstasy over his success.

For his performance on TV he wasn't paid — the only monetary payment came from Wilson's, the manufacturer of athletic goods and equipment who promised him $100 every time he used a Wilson basketball during his act on national TV.

However, Upthegrove has been invited to several summer basketball camps when he shows off his skills.

Married to Pamela, the Upthegroves have four children — Marcus and Michele, twins born last year, Emerson, who is five and Terri, 2.

Upthegrove practices his spinning act some six hours a day and someday hopes the act will develop into a duo with Karen Logan of Phoenix, Arizona. Ms. Logan also has learned the fine art of twirling the basketball on her fingers and body.

"We're talking about during our act together," Monte says, "but there isn't anything definite. We're in the stage of just talking."

For all anyone knows, that could be the start of the first professional "spinning" basketball team.

The latest school district to send out an S.O.S. to its electorate and coaches to help save high school athletics is North Dearborn Heights which houses Riverside High School.

Riverside, one of the smaller schools, (it's Class B) is a respected adversary in the Tri-Conference, and if an Aug. 29 millage should be turned down, the board has no alternative but "to cut back on its programs and cut out high school sports."

That's the word from George A. Leonard, superintendent of schools in the district.

"We have asked our residents to approve a 5-mill, one year levy which would maintain the present programs," Leonard said. "That would raise nearly $300,000 of our $3 million budget."

"However, if the levy should be turned down, then we won't be fielding any teams this year in the Tri-River League," he added. That would mean the league would be minus two high schools — Garden City, which earlier rejected a millage to salvage a score of programs — and Riverside.

Supt. Leonard said he realized that most high schools begin their football program a couple of weeks into August. He said that he would ask his coaches to volunteer their services during the month.

"There is a stipulation, though," he stressed. "We're telling them that they will have to work on a voluntary basis and if the millage passes, they'll be reimbursed."

"However, if the voters turned down the levy, then they won't get paid."

Leonard pointed out that he "didn't know which way the board would turn if the voters rejected the levy."

"I really don't know if we would do what they did in Garden City and just forego about sports for one year or let our booster clubs raise the money as some districts have done."

Which ever way they turn, NDH's athletic program — like many others — is in jeopardy.

Since this is the month of August and the month that the Michigan High School Athletic Association officially sanctions high school football practice, we'd like to send out our first request for high school fall schedules — for all districts that will be having sports.

As in the past, The Associated Newspapers will be publishing a "Special Football Edition" in September as we urge all athletic directors to mail, or drop the schedules off at our offices.

If a new head coach has been appointed, please include his home telephone number.

Westland Ruth stars second

By GEORGE WHITEHEAD
Special Correspondent

Scores of Westland baseball fans greeted the Westland Triple-A Babe Ruth All-Star team Sunday when it returned home from Iron Mountain just a whisker short of claiming the Michigan State Babe Ruth championship. The Westland team forced five-time state champion West Seven of Detroit into a two-day 14-inning marathon before dropping a 6-5 contest in the state finals.

Westland lost its first game in the state tournament to West Seven and then proceeded to capture six straight games, including a 3-2 verdict over the Detroit squad, to reach the finals.

A caught fly ball that popped out of shortstop Don Drehier's glove when he hit the ground resulted in West Seven's winning margin in the fourteenth inning of a game suspended by darkness on Friday after 10 innings.

Both hits that ended the Westland streak were of the bloop variety off loser Al Lipinski, who had a string of 19 consecutive scoreless innings to be the pitching talk of the tournament. The first was a little bloop single that skipped by leftfielder

Roger Breeding, who dove in an attempt at catching it.

With two out and the West Seven runner on second, the next batter hit a pop fly in short center field. With the second basemen and centerfielder converging, shortstop Drehier made a superb diving stab and caught the ball, but it popped free when he hit the ground and the West Seven runner scored.

Manager Rick Foy called his team "one of the guttiest, best-behaved, scrapiest, never-say-die bunch" he had ever been associated with.

"Our kids had their backs to the wall several times, but never caved in," Foy said. "We had many people rooting for us, particularly the host Iron Mountain fans, and I can't say enough about how the boys performed, both on and off the field."

"Many people expressed the thought that the better team hadn't won, but I and my coaching staff of Roger Hatcher and Jim Searcy are just proud to be associated with these young men."

The championship game, which started Friday, was a come-from-behind game for Westland. West Seven opened the first inning with a home run. The scrappy Westland team tied the game in its half on a walk to Dave Goff, a ground out and a 360-foot sacrifice fly off the bat of Al Kouri.

Westland took the lead in the second on walks to Rob Suida, Ed Bonior, Drehier, Goff and a fielder's choice by starting pitcher Greg (Continued on Page 4)

Drake's is tops in Wayne

It was a week of upsets that turned the Wayne Class B Division II Softball standings into a log-jam, but Drake's emerged precariously perched atop the race.

The leaders, despite a tough loss, maintained a two-game lead.

J&M climaxed the upset week with an 8-2 victory over Drake's in what observers called a sound defensive game accented by two sparkling plays to halt early threats and stop the league leaders.

Don Shea scattered 10 Drake hits, while Mike Cantanzante, Walt Dietz, Glen Davis and Shea each banded out two for J&M.

Tilly Kowalski drove in three runs for the winners.

Doug Reid, Greg Reid and Curt Wiianen each had two hits for the losers, who collected 12 hits, but were stymied at every turn.

Earlier in the week, J&M fell victim, 15-1, as Unistrut combined 16 hits with eight J&M errors. The winners sent home four runners in the first inning and were never headed.

Bruce McClure and Ron Smith paced the Unistrut victory as they combined on the mound and at the plate. McClure, who pitched the first five innings, had four hits, while Smith hurled the final two innings and also chipped in two hits. Barry Parich drove in four runs for Unistrut.

Mike and Bob Catanzarite each had two hits for the losers.

Unistrut found itself on the wrong end of a superb pitching performance later as Rich Points scattered six hits in NBA Lab's 6-1 victory.

The contest turned into a pitching duel after the first inning when NBA scored five times.

Tony Mardirosian, Ron Sanford and John Mardirosian paced an eight-hit NBA attack, while Jeff Hogan had two hits in a losing cause.

In the only game which remotely followed the league standings, Knights scored two runs in the sixth inning to edge last-place Johnson Carbonic, 8-7.

Brendon Heaney and Chuck Klein paced Knights, and Ken Heaney was the winning pitcher. Don Pretere, Jim Baldwin and Gary Malaniak charged Johnson Carbonic, who outhit the winners, 11-10. Barth Butcherelli was tagged with the pitching loss.

Massey's mauls rivals, 15-0

Rare shutout in softball

Shutouts are rarities in softball, but Don Massey didn't allow that to stop them in Canton's Class A softball league.

The second-place team chalked up a 15-0 victory over Quality Construction for its ninth victory in 13 starts.

Despite the triumph, Massey's has settled for second place in the league. McMurray's captured the title a week ago with a perfect 13-0 record.

Massey's Pat Byrnes tossed a three-hitter and was credited with his first shutout. He helped his cause with a pair of singles and a double.

Massey's hitting power came from Don Gulleckson and Tom Battiston who each homered. Gulleckson finished the game with two circuit blasts and a double, while Battistone blasted a three-run homer and a single.

Third baseman Randy Sharland also contributed three hits to the winner's cause. Larry Davis, Denny Goucher, and "Big" Jack Ewald all chipped in with a hit for Quality Construction.

Meanwhile, McMurray's took another step toward an undefeated season with a narrow 4-3 victory over George Smith Realty.

McMurray's scored a run in the sixth that settled the issue between the two arch-rivals.

Rightfielder Carl Vasquez doubled and singled for the winners and his singles scored what proved to be the winning run.

Losing pitcher Marty LaPorte slammed a home run and a single for Smith's while Mike Eves was the winner for the newly-crowned champs.

In other Class A action, Little Caesar's erupted for 12 runs in the first inning and coasted to a 14-5 victory over the fifth place Clark Block. It was Caesar's fifth win in 13 outings.

Clark's record dipped to 3-11 on the year.

Claude Tunison led the winners at the plate as he chalked up three hits in four trips, including a triple and two singles which were good for two runs batted in.

Caesar's first baseman Tom Isaacs chipped in with three safeties in four attempts. Clark Block's Joe Jakobowski, Mike McMasters, Mike Rorabacher and Keith Morton all had two hits.

Dave Raimor was credited with the victory.

George Smith Realty picked up its seventh victory of the season by topping Quality Construction 13-5. The Smith attack was highlighted by the home run ball.

Winning hurler, Marty Laporte clouted a three-run homer and a solo blast.

Marty also had two singles to finish up with a perfect four for four performance.

Gary also collected three hits, with two of the hits going for the distance for the winners.

Smith's playing manager, Don Vogler, made a fine running catch to halt Quality's come back effort. Quality's Ted Shields batted out a triple and a single in three trips to the plate.

Wayne '9s' battle for Class D

It's still too close to call in the Class D Baseball League. Wayne I has a half-game edge over its arch-rivals Wayne II, but Inkster SWAT is also close on the heels, one game out of first place.

Taking no chances of losing its first place image, Wayne I shut out winless Inkster Cathedral 15-0 behind Jeff Tollison's one-hitter. Tollison notched 11 strikeouts and walked one.

The Wayne hurler's bid for a shutout was destroyed by Tom Wilson who connected for a single in the fifth inning.

The game, cut short because of the "mercy rule", was highlighted by three homers as Greg Stano, Keith Johnson and Phil Pitt each connected for circuit clouts.

Tollison helped his cause with a pair of singles which paved the way for two runs batted in while Jeff Farmer also batted in three runs with two hits.

Wayne II however needed a four-run sixth inning to break loose from Inkster SWAT which blew a 2-0 first inning lead.

Inkster scored off of winning pitcher John Vincel when Al Bush walked, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Smith's bunt single drove in the run and he went to third on an errant pickoff play. Jones' sacrifice fly chased him home.

Held scoreless by pitcher Tom Smith for five innings, Wayne finally came alive in the sixth when Red led

Unbeaten duo

Duel to decide 'Minor' champ

After eight games, Wayne Motor Supply and Joe Budreau have remained undefeated in the Westland Softball League's White Division.

And the two will duel next week to decide which will wear that division's crown for 1977.

Wayne Motor Supply shook a pesky Evergreen Sprinkler line-up 22-16 in its latest outings and managed to overcome a 9-2 first inning deficit. Wayne scored three times in the final inning and rallied for 10 big ones in the fourth to turn the tide.

Ron Halis regained his home after giving up those nine runs in the first inning and 21 hits for the evening to post the victory. Evergreen's John Redmond collected four singles while brother, Bob, chipped in three, including a double and three RBI's.

Joe Budreau drilled a single and triple off of Halis whose teammates came up with 22 hits off of loser, Bob Carditis.

Larry Kovacks led the winners, slamming a three-run homer and also picked up a couple of singles. Teammates Bob Mijal and Clak Burns each had three hits for the winners.

In other White Division games, Wayne County's Sheriff's Department rallied for four runs in the bottom of the sixth to turn back Leaseaway of Detroit 11-9.

Leaseaway outthrew their rivals 18-16 but fell behind 6-1 after three innings.

Dave Holloway and Bill Leitz split six hits and Al Carr laced two for the losers.

Ed Rasmussen, the winning pitcher, helped his cause with three hits, including a double. Teammate Bill Robitaille drilled a single, double and homer missing the cycle by a triple whole Bob Bonner also homered and latched on to two doubles.

Losing pitcher Wayne McDonald also gave up three hits and two RBI's to Larry Sullivan.

The Wayne County General made it five out of eight with a 8-5 victory over Nite-Lite Lounge. Lounge had 14 hits, two each by Vic Tomlin and Del Metkowski and three from Rick Morton.

Skip Johnson blasted a homer and also singled and doubled off of loser Tom Camerson and winning pitcher Gary Kowalski helped his cause with a pair of singles. Mate Duane Hicks checked in with a single and double.

The Royals won their second in six starts at the expense of the eighth place, Mr. Steak which scored twice in the first inning, then was blanked the rest of the way by winning hurler Doug Morrison.

Dave Gagne connected for three singles and Tom Wright socked a run-scoring double for the losers. Dan Gorman came up with a pair of doubles and two singles to dive in three runs. Tom Gerkin and Don McNamara each had a single and double for the winners.

Knights chase Wayne-Ford for Westland softball title

With the Knights of Columbus closing in fast, league-leading Wayne Ford Civic Center isn't taking any chances.

Wayne bombarded Westland Hockey Association 28-7 to maintain its slim one-game edge over the Knights in the Westland Community Services Softball League.

The victory was the ninth in 10 starts for Wayne while the Knights, sporting an 8-1 record, is the only team that mathematically stands a chance of catching the pacesetters.

Charlie Neilson has his best night of the season at the plate as he pounded out three homers, doubled and singled in a total of nine runs for the winners.

Jim Trommeur counted three singles which were good for three RBI's, while Harry Smith had a pair of doubles off of losing pitcher Gary Wynn.

Wynn singled and homered and had two RBI's for the losers. Winning pitcher Ferrari also gave up a couple of singles to Chuck Cooney.

The Knights stayed in the chase after plastering J.C.'s Gold Chips 24-6. Tied after the first inning at 3-all, the Knights broke loose with seven runs in the second and put it away with seven and six runs in the third and fourth innings respectively.

Glenn Harla drilled a grand slam homer off of losing hurler Pat Danna while Bob Stopper and Jerry Abraham each had two hits for the winners.

Winning pitcher John Marszalek, tagged for 12 hits, served up a homer to Bill Jetchick who accounted for three RBI's, while Don Herbert and Rick Zylka each had two hits.

In the only other game, the Blue Chips parlayed Chuck Pickering's 14-hit pitching effort and a 23-hit attack of their own into a 19-7 triumph over Westland's Chamber of Commerce contingent.

Pickering had his problems with Bob Mann and Berry Kenyon who split four hits while Bill Olson stoked three singles and drove in two runs.

Mark Wilcox and Bob Alves both missed hitting for the cycle when losing pitcher Lou Klein failed to deliver up triples to the Blue Chippers. Pickering helped his cause with three singles.

Marauders elude Fairlane to stay atop of Blue League

Close now, the Westland Blue Division softball title race nearly became a six-team affair as second place Fairlane came within a run of stopping league leading B-B Marauders.

Fairlane rallied for six runs in the fourth inning to take a 6-4 lead but it didn't last as the Marauders came back with two in the fifth to tie the score and one on the seventh to win it, 7-6.

That victory enabled the Marauders to pull away from the field by two games. The league-leader is 8-1 on the season, while Fairlane and Extra Point Bar are deadlocked for second with 6-2 marks.

Winning pitcher Larry McConnell helped his cause with a two-run triple while teammate Chuck Ruthig connected for a run-scoring triple and Lonnie Ruthig doubled off of losing pitcher Don Yanick.

Dale Evans led the losers' attack as he swatted three singles both Dave Hunt and Jary Juna had run-scoring singles.

In other games, Jake's Lounge broke loose for 10 runs in the second inning en route to a 17-14 victory over Odyssey Lounge. That win kept Jake's slim title hopes alive while Odyssey has won one of seven games.

Phil Martinez gave up 20 hits, four to Al Pulk and three each to Jake Davidson and Bennie Maggard who had two doubles.

Winning pitcher Jim Kolodzneg had his problems as the losers compiled 16 hits including a homer, double and single by Bill Ramsey. Mike Schuffath picked up a pair of singles and a double while Rick Bolig had two singles.

Extra Point Lounge lost ground as seventh-place Jammie's upset the runners-up, 6-5.

Extra Point pounded out 15 hits off of winning pitcher Mike O'Conner, but couldn't come up with the key hits. Dave Hysko connected for a pair of singles and a double while John Martin and Gordy Smith both checked in with two hits for the losers.

Jamie's Gary Davis collected two singles.

Ed Spontack survived a 14-hit Champion Screw attack to help McCurdy's Optical post a 10-3 victory over their rivals. Losing pitcher Tim Suida also gave up 14 hits, four to Dave Farley and two each to Cliff Morgan and Dennis Sipe.

Randy Beardon had three singles and Tony Switch carded a single and doubles for the losers who also received a pair of hits from Bob Cisko.

Bois Blanc Isle beckons fishermen

SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

Just six miles off the coast of Cheboygan and within view of the Mackinaw Bridge lies an island where time seems to move at a slower pace.

The third week of July, I was the guest of Herb and Grace Radala at their 104 year old Pines Hotel.

Rustic in appearance and undergoing improvements, what the hotel lacks in modern conveniences is soon made up in old-fashioned hospitality.

I've stayed at few places where they made me feel as welcome as they did there. Herb fixed a brailed white fish one night that he bragged about. After eating I could understand why.

Grace bakes bread every morning and her cinnamon doughnuts could become habit forming.

I was invited to participate in a research trip that Gary Grissom, a natural resources specialist for the Michigan Travel Bureau, had set up for a group of sportsmen. Research trips tend to be long on talk, and short on fish. However, this one was an exception.

Lance Hinatsu-Hunters International, Fred Trost and Kathy Fleck the Michigan Weekend TV series, Gordon Charles - Traverse City Record Eagle, Mark Dilts - Michigan Sportsman, and Tom Freil - AAA Travel Magazine were all in attendance and I think they found it exceeded their expectations.

Bois Blanc is not the place to go to be "shown" a good time. Souvenirs are limited and there is not a single fudge shop to be seen. It is the ideal place to go for a lay-back and take-it-easy vacation.

The hotel is reasonably priced at $17 per day double occupancy and they have a 2 person, 2 day package for $60 that includes all your meals.

For the tent camper there are several small campsites in four different parts of the state forest that covers over 60 percent of the island.

Gravel roads and trails interlace the island providing many miles of solitude for the bicyclist and backpacker. Ham McNichols of Oscoda was backpacking while I was there. He spends many days each year on the island, is planning many more, and he's 73 years old.

Waterfowl and other bird and animal life abound, and the deer herd is on the rebound, producing more fine bucks each fall.

Bois Blanc boast three lakes for the fisherman and many a nice pike and smallmouth bass are taken each year. Spring and fall surf and pier fishing for brown trout and steelhead keeps getting better; and a good solid population of lake trout is developing in the shoal water around the island.

Lance Hinatsu and I arrived the day before the other writers so we could locate the lake trout ahead of time. We spent several hours exploring the crystal clear water marking several nice schools on our sonar and the paper showed us excellent trout habitat.

The day we were to fish, with Fred Trost aboard, we located fish in the rocky water of McCrea Bay. With the fish 65 feet down and lying on the bottom we soon had the necessary camera footage and four nice lakers to boot.

We picked them up on small fireplugs and Tranquillizers fished clean.

Eleven fish make for a nice trip, but when you only see one other boat fishing it's great. Bois Blanc has plenty of fish and more importantly plenty of room.

Jac's winning streak ends at 17

Unheralded Michigan Bell jarred previously undefeated Jac's Lounge 17-12, handing the Romulus Class B softball leader its first loss in 18 starts.

Trailing 9-0 after three innings, Michigan Bell erupted for three runs in the fifth, added seven and six in the last two innings to accomplish what no other 'B' team has this season in the league.

Dan Pier led the winners' attack as he laced five singles in five innings at the plate, driving in two runs, while teammates Tom Preston collected a home run and three singles and Ron Cortez connected with three hits.

Dale Petrene led the loser's attack with three hits and Ron Pierson picked up two as did Patterson and Deck.

Meanwhile, Walter's Bar rallied for two runs in the top of the seventh but fell short 9-8 in a thriller to last place Bilmar's.

Gordon Silvey was the winning pitcher, while Bob Block was the loser. Both Stahl and Mach collected three hits for the losers, and Bray laced three singles and Houth connected for a single and double for the winners.

Over in Class A, Captain Nemo's is coasting along on an excellent 17-1 record and steaming toward the league championship. The league-leader knocked off American Hospital 24-10 and got by Rocco Ferrara 10-6.

Rocco's bounced back to humble Romulus City Drugs 10-4 as Jay Barton outdueled Tom Mysak for the victory. Dale Pokewinski latched on to two hits for the losers, while Larry Chesno and Paul DeBuyscher split three hits for the winners.

Mike Nielson slammer a homer, singled and drove in four runs for Rocco's.

Garden City wins District

John Sabourin broke out of a slump, Jim Canfield was tough particularly when needed, and Bill Crews displayed one of the finest fielding plays of the season Saturday as Garden City turned back Lincoln Park, 4-2, to capture the American Legion sixteenth district baseball championship. The Garden City team, which sports a roster that appears to be a collection of baseball stars from throughout the Wayne-Westland-Garden City area, will savor its championship before advancing to the American Legion Detroit zone playoffs August 12 on Belle Isle. The victory was the seventeenth against six losses for manager Ken Stack's charges, and eliminated the need for a scheduled game Sunday against Taylor. Only Lincoln Park had a shot at the Garden City team, and that would have necessitated a double win on the part of Lincoln Park.

But Canfield hurled six innings of scoreless baseball and Sabourin drove in three runs to give Garden City its win in the first of a scheduled two-game series. Canfield, a Wayne Memorial High ace during the prep season, scattered five hits, struck out eight and walked three in posting his eighth win in 10 starts.

Sabourin, who has been in a recent slump, broke out of it in the third inning Saturday with a bases-loaded single to drive in two Garden City runs after his teammates had scored on a single, a fielder's choice and three bases on balls.

In the fourth inning Sabourin again came to bat with Tim Brady on base and delivered another run-scoring single. He, Brady and Jerry Holl each had two hits to pace Garden City's eight-hit assault.

Stack had some tense moments in the seventh inning when Lincoln Park, until that point stifled by Canfield, began kicking its heels. A double, an error and a walk loaded the bases with no one out and Canfield appeared to be in trouble.

He eased the situation by getting the one batter to pop out and struck out the next. But the following hitter slammed a single to centerfield and two runners scampered home.

Crews fielded the shot and appeared ready to rifle the ball home in an attempt to cut down the second runner, but instead stopped almost in mid-air and charged toward the Lincoln Park runner who, believing the throw was going home, had started for third.

Crews caught the Lincoln Park plans completely baffled and easily trapped him between second and third for the final put-out.

"I don't think I have ever seen anyone change directions the way Bill (Crews) did," Stack related. "How he stopped from throwing the ball, and still had enough presence-of-mind to trap the runner, I don't know. But it was beautiful."

If Garden City wins the Detroit zone playoffs, Stack and his charges will advance to the state championship in St. Joseph, and hopefully to the regional playoffs in Illinois.

Best in Westland's first flight

Kevin Pollock (second from left) and Joe Warren staged a close battle for top honors in the first flight at the recently City Championship Golf Tournament, but Warren's 81 for the first round cost him the first place plaque for Westland. Pollock shot 80 the first day and 76 the second.

'C' title is up for grabs

Metro gives Ovidon the fits

Showing no signs of letting up, Metro Bolts continued to stay close on Ovidon's tail in Canton's Class C softball title race.

Though Ovidon has the lead with a 12-2 record, Metro's 11-3 record places it in second place, only a game out of the top rung.

Metro Bolt & Fastener overwhelmed Huffman's Roofing 22-11, to stay one game behind as Ray Bloch had a perfect evening at the plate with four straight hits in four at bats.

One of Block's hits went for the distance.

Teammates Bill Elliot and Mark Venchelov chipped in with three hits apiece.

Huffman's 11 runs were scored by the heroics of left fielder Dave Monte and hurler Ray Isakson, as they both banged out three safties apiece.

Winning pitcher for Metro, Sam Maki, also collected three singles. In other action, Centry Farms - AmRoy Canton held the Canton Police at bay with a 29-15 victory. Mark (Sure foot) Crawford led a well-balanced attack with three doubles and a single.

Paul Deedler, Al Hartman, Craig Masterton, Jack Bockstanz, and

Mike Kowalski all banged out three hits for the winners.

Losing pitcher for the law men, led their attack with a double, triple, and a home run, worth five RBI's.

The Lion & the Sword moved within a game of second place in the 'B' Division by stunning second place Merchants by the score of 9-6.

Manager Terry Brozek's squad scored seven runs in the last three innings to post their seventh victory.

Third baseman Hal Winters banged out two hits in three at bats, with two RBI's for The Lion & the Sword.

Jim Gabriel and Don Ott also collected two hits for the winners.

Mike Sudik and Mike Slav in paced the hitting attack of the Merchants as they collected two hits apiece. Winning pitcher was Bob Zurmoehler.

Meijer's Thrifty Acres picked up a victory by outscoring Latin Quarter Catering 7-3. Third sacker Don Riffenburg had a perfect evening for the stone men with three straight singles.

Teammates Tom Laporte, Joe Shanabrook, and Wyatt Gates all collected two hits for the winning team. Roy Chapman picked up three singles for Latin Quarter Catering.

Winning pitcher for Meijer's Thrifty Acres was Mark (quick pitch) Harley.

Perlongo Excavating received a scare from a determined Chapman squad but recorded its 13th victory by the score of 18-16 in Division 'B' competition.

The game was a see-saw battle until Perlongo picked up six runs in the sixth and two more in the seventh.

Chapman scored four runs in the sixth to remain one run behind the league leaders.

Perlongo then scored two additional runs in the top of the seventh to make the score 18-15. Chapman could only manage to score one run in the seventh.

Perlongo's Joe Blitz was the hitting hero as he collected three straight hits, one of which was a double. Teammate Dale Butzin hammered out a home run and a single in three attempts.

Bob Mida also had an excellent evening for Perlongo with three consecutive safties. Chapman produced many hitting standouts, including shortstop Russ Scott who had three hits, with one going for the distance.

Third sacker for Chapman, Jim Doherty, had a four for five performance with four singles. Greg Daley also chipped in with three hits for the losers.

Chapman Bros. Realty picked up its fourth victory of the season by stunning third place Lion & the Sword 13-12. The Realty men scored three runs in the top of the seventh to post the victory.

Chapman's Bob Olesky, Jim Doherty, and Ken Gloski all chipped in with three hits apiece. Greg Kastele banged out a round tripper.

Dolphins grab share of swim league crown

By GEORGE WHITEHEAD
Special Correspondent

Although plagued by a summer virus and several key injuries, the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club Friday virtually assured itself of at least a second place in the Summer-Winter Swim Conference with its fourth straight relay victory.

The Dolphins, who will travel to Lincoln Park Saturday for the individual league meet, gained 13 first places in a 22-event butterfly meet hosted by Allen Park Colony to total 113 points. Lincoln Park had 90, while Crestwood scored 85. Allen Park had 40, and Cherry Hill finished with 32.

The league championship meet Saturday features mainly individual events as opposed to relays with each club sending two swimmers in each event. There will also be relays in each age category, as is normal at swimming meets.

However, under the point system the league utilizes, the Dolphins have amassed enough points in the four relay meets that only a complete collapse could come between Wayne and the summer championship.

Coach Jim McPartlin reached into the vast Dolphin depth to fill several key gaps left by sickness and injury and, as has been the case in recent years, that over-all depth paid high dividends.

"You just have to give some of these kids credit," McPartlin said. "Some of them work hard every day, waiting for the chance to swim in a meet, and when we needed them, they were ready."

Among those gaining blue ribbons were many familiar names to Dolphin followers including triple winners Teri Discher, Cathy Batterson, Todd Melanshek and Eric Head.

Mary Jane Little is one of the youngsters McPartlin referred to as she combined with Sandy Burns, Diane Brown and Mary Batterson for a pair of victories — in the girls' 11-12 butterfly relay and again in the girls' fly-breast relay. Those were her first blue ribbons in league competition.

Jenny Maher is another. She teamed with Kris Balwinski, Mary Beth Henson and Shelly Connelley for a win in the girls' 10-under medley relay.

"There were others," McPartlin pointed out, "who did well but didn't come in first." Some he mentioned were Alan White, Kevin Eddy, Bob Henson, Jeff Albert, Debbie Cochran, Lisa Blossingham, Elana Drake, Heather Jones, Jack Underwood, Brian Sleicher and Kris Johnston.

David Reynolds, Tim White, Keith Head and Mike Greuber combined for the Dolphins' first relay victory Friday, a win which started Wayne on a string of four straight.

Keith Brothers got his first blue ribbon when he teamed with Melanshek, Eric Head and Jeff Thompson in the boys' 11-12 butterfly relay. Thompson finished the evening with two first places as he, Mike Egan, Melanshek and Head won the fly-breast event. Kevin Egan also was a winner for the first time.

Other swimmers scoring two blue ribbons included Gretchen Batterson, Lorraine Shaffer and Tracey Batterson. Bringing home first-place ribbons were Lisa Mondock, Cathy White, Jamie Thompson, Rene Whitson, Kelly Batterson, Jim Watts, Karl Staber, Tom Brown and George Hills.

Following the league championship on Saturday in Lincoln Park, the Dolphins will hold its own Junior Olympics Tuesday at Attwood Pool, climaxed on Friday with the Awards Banquet in the Wayne Community Center, Annapolis and Howe.

Jane Shaffer proudly displays the trophy she won at the Romulus Ladies Softball League home run derby, held in conjunction with the league's All-Star contest. Jane and her A Division teammates won the game over the B Division, 10-8.

In Wayne, yes

Kaline better than Cobb?

Al Kaline better than Ty Cobb? No, it's not a baseball player controversy, it just worked that way in the Wayne Grapefruit All-Star game last week when the Al Kaline Stars beat the Ty Cobb Stars, 5-1.

Bunching nine hits, including five doubles, the Kaline team scored one run in the second, third and seventh and twice in the fifth while holding the Cobb club to a solo run in the third.

Tom Zeron, Kwan Hearn, Mark Hanson and Tim Guest shared the pitching duties for the winners. Jim Perkey, Steve Hartzler, Craig Timko, Hanson and David Day all rapped doubles to lead the attack.

Other members of Manager Mark Brothers' Kaline team included

Phillip Coleman, Todd VanSickle, Todd Kissel and Todd Knickerbocker pitched for the losers. Jim Pennington and David Beaver each had doubles, while Bobby Cantrell drove in the only Ty Cobb run.

Other members of the Ty Cobb team, coached by Chester Jaroszewicz, were Mike Howard, Bob Lowell, Tim Dare, George Favazza, Eric Genung, Dan New, Tom Olsen, Bobby Pascarella, Jim Bledsoe, Keith Kamin and Ross Russell.

'Friends' cause Wayne deadlock

Taking advantage of a little help from "rival friends," the Rams took matters into their own hands and scored two victories... one over league-leading Wolverines... to throw the Wayne Class E League final standings into a tie. The Rams and Wolverines must meet head-on to decide the 1977 championship.

The Beavers turned into unlikely "friends" of the Rams when they tallied three times in the third inning to hand Wolverines a 3-2 loss, tagging Jeff Lambert with his first set-back of the season. Tom Thompson scattered five hits and Mel Rumble and Larry Reid got the only hits off Lambert as the Beavers combined them with two Wolverine errors to score the winning runs.

The Rams then proceeded to do their own mop-up job with a 2-1 verdict over the Wolverines. Doug Pearson went all the way to record the victory in a pitching duel with Joe Jones and Lambert. The win at that point pulled the Rams and Wolverines into a three-way tie with the Beavers for first place.

But the Rams were not to be denied their surge and routed the Beavers, 11-1, dropping the Beavers out of the running and knotting the final standings. Chuck Erickson was the Ram pitching victor while Brian Kaminski's two hits and Dan Perusse's two runs-batted-in paced the Ram triumph. Bob Nutt aided the win with his first homer of the year.

Belleville Ski Club state's best

Skiers representing the Belleville Lake Water Ski Club captured six first places and a host of seconds and thirds to take top honors in the Michigan State Water Ski Championships, at Tivoli Gardens, near Brighton.

The Belleville ski club topped its closest competitor by 40 points.

Peggy Grude paced the club with first places in both the slalom and tricks categories. Ron Hink took a first in jumping and a second in tricks, while Lisa Baltz was second in jumping and third in both slalom and tricks.

Other first place winners were Bill Murbach, slalom; Dusty Rhodes, jumping, and Lauri Taylor, slalom. Curt Baltz was second in tricks and third in jumping. Other second-place winners were Carol Duane, tricks; Devin Guenther, jumping; Fred Meyers, jumping, and Yvonne Thines, tricks.

Several of the Belleville members will compete this Saturday and Sunday in the Midwestern Regional Ski Championships in Illinois, according to Secretary Debbie Baulbit.

Thompson and Jerry Regits suffered the loss, despite allowing only four hits between them and racking up a total of 13 strikeouts. The Beaver mound duo also had problems with 10 walks, however, while Rumble and Reid each had two hits in a losing cause.

Earlier in the week the Rams again overcame being out-hit to defeat the Colts, 3-2, and made the most of a half-dozen safeties in topping the Bears, 11-1. Erickson spaced the Colt hits between five different batters to register the win, and the Rams tallied once in each of three innings to send Jim Perkins to defeat. Perkins allowed only three hits and struck out 13. Rich Peters and Nutt paced the Ram attack.

Perusse allowed only one Bear hit, a triple to Joe Glass, and struck out five for the Ram win. Nutt, Peters, Mike Atkins, John Grace and Roy Buchanan sparked the Ram hitting attack.

The Beavers stayed right in the thick of the pennant race earlier in the week with two big wins, a 15-6 decision over the Bears and an 8-1 dumping of the Colts. Jeff Thompson and Larry Reid combined for a five-hitter against the Bears.

Reid went all the way for a two-hitter and led a balanced Beaver hitting attack against the Colts which saw runs scored by six different players. Reid also struck out 10 batters.

The Colts, meanwhile, ended with two straight triumphs to salvage their season. Tony Mach rammed a homer to drive in three runs and the Colts weathered a seventh-inning rally to beat the Lions, 9-8. Jeff Auer got credit for the win.

In an earlier victory, the Colts jumped off to an early lead and held on for an 8-6 verdict over the Bears. Jim Perkins and Mach combined for pitching honors, while Jim Zerona had two hits and Auer drove in two runs to pace the Colt hitting. Despite fanning nine batters, Al Bruchnak was tagged with the loss.

In the only other game Barry Conyer struck out 11 batters and contributed three doubles in the Bears' 12-2 win over the Lions. Bruchnak and Eugene Piestrak each had two hits for the winners.

Little League holds elections in Romulus

The Romulus South Little League baseball organization will hold a general meeting and election of officers Wednesday, Aug. 11, in the Romulus City Hall, 11111 South Wayne Road. The meeting is scheduled to convene at 8 p.m. in the council chambers, according to secretary Bettie Doss.

Second best flight in Westland

(170) and Tom Davidson (174) finished second and third respectively in the flight. The annual meet lured more than 130 golfers to Fellows Creek Golf Course.

Wayne Ruth stars second

(Continued from Page 1) Kozub. The lead was short-lived however as West Seven bunched four hits for three runs in the fourth inning and added another in the fifth for a 5-2 lead.

At this point Foy summoned Lipinski who choked off the rally and left two West Seven runners on base. In the bottom of the fifth Westland took advantage of three walks to load the bases and Rob Suida singled home all three runners to tie the game. That's the way it stayed through the tenth inning and until Saturday and the fourteenth frame.

Foy called the game a master of defensive play and particularly pointed to the work of catcher Jeff Searcy, who threw out four West Seven runners attempting to steal. He pointed out that Lipinski struck out only four batters, but had the opposition hitting to his fielders, who did their jobs.

Westland got started in tournament play by beating the Westland Double-A team, 3-2, and defeating Lincoln Park twice, 1-0 and 7-2, to gain the District Three championship. Mike Tyler scored the winning run to give himself the pitching victory over Westland Double-A. Lipinski tossed a two-hitter to stop Lincoln Park in the first game, and Kozub got credit for the second win over Lincoln Park.

The first loss to West Seven dropped Westland into the losers' bracket of the two-loss elimination state finals, putting even more pressure on the team. "We had only been together for several weeks, and our kids were understandably nervous," Foy said.

But from that point, it was all Westland for six days. Kozub mastered a one-hitter and Bonier banged out two hits in a 4-0 win over Marysville. Then hometown Twin State National of Iron Mountain, was blistered by Westland, 19-4. Suida and Searcy each contributed 3-run home runs, Kouri went four-for-five, Breeding and Brian Hewitt each had three hits in pacing the win for pitcher Tyler.

A crafty Grosse Pointe team fell to Westland, 8-3, as Kouri slammed a homer and a triple. Breeding and Bonier each had two hits and Lipinski relieved Breeding to start his string of scoreless innings.

Lipinski singled Searcy home twice to compliment Kozub's four-hit pitching as Westland rolled on with a 6-2 win over Belleville. The winners put the game out of sight in the third inning on a pair of walks, a single and a double by Suida.

Westland made its move into the championship flight on Thursday with a 7-2 win over Niles, who jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning. The local heroes came back in the fourth inning on singles by Breeding, Suida, Hewitt and a double off the bat of Bonier to take a 3-2 lead. They added four more in the fifth highlighted by Kouri's second homer of the tournament.

Foy pointed to Searcy's play behind the plate as the turning point in the game. In the third inning, Niles had two runners on and no out when Searcy picked off the runner on first base. When Lipinski struck out the next batter, Searcy caught the runner on second leaning and picked him off to end the threat.

Westland handed West Seven its only loss of the tournament on Friday morning when Hewitt was hit by a pitched ball with the bases loaded in the bottom of the eighth inning. Suida, a southpaw, allowed the state champs only four hits, but saw a 2-0 lead erased by two unearned runs, forcing the game into extra innings. A single by John Morin and walks to Steve Droz and Drehier loaded the bases before Hewitt was nipped to force home the winning run.

Foy was elated with the way his team performed, "I can't begin to tell you how much a team effort this was," said the Westland manager. "I must mention Joe Stafford, who was our inspirational leader, and Joey Gueatta, who was there when I needed him. Without these guys, we probably couldn't have hung together."

Foy also acknowledged the help of Tom Potts, president of the Westland Youth Athletic Association, and Donald Drehier, father of the Westland shortstop, who chaperoned and helped with equipment in Iron Mountain.

Wayne beats Westland in Class E

Wayne's Class E All-Stars scored three times in each of the first two innings and then added 10 more tallies in the fourth to hand the Westland Wayne-Ford All-Stars a 16-4 defeat in inter-area baseball play.

Richie Peters drove in three runs and scored three, while Larry Reid also tallied three times. Peters had a home run to tie the 11-hit Wayne assault. Bob Nutt, Ken Browne and Jeff Auer each scored twice for the winners.

The Wayne All-Stars were Al Bruchnak, Gene Piestrak and Barry Conyers, of the Bears; Jerry and Larry Reid, of the Beavers; Jeff Auer, Mark Odom, Greg Maxwell and Tony Mach, Colts; Tracy Conyer and Wally McVey, Lions; Robert Nutt, Richie Peters and Chuck Erickson, Rams, and Ken Browne, Joe Jones, Don Swanson and Jeff Lambert, of the Wolverines.

Representing Westland Wayne-Ford I Civic League were Keith Snider, Bill James, Russ Hall Jack Sampson and Bob Jones, of the Braves; Dennis Smith, Craig Money, Joe Arbini, Jim Rackwal and Fred Harrington, Padres; R. J. Oullette, Dan O'Brien, Steve Robinson, Fred Durnford and Bob Shinski, White Sox, and Greg Reynolds, Randy Smith, Toby Wright, Chris Hows and Keith Hows, of the Rangers.

Pitching snarls Class D

Wayne II racked up three victories and Wayne I chalked up one last week to keep things tight in the Wayne Class D Baseball League. Both teams ended the week with identical 8-2 win-loss marks.

The week featured some superb pitching by winning teams, including two one-hitters and a two-hitter. The only disappointment came when Wayne II was awarded a forfeit from Inkster S.W.A.T.

Wayne I got a combined one-hitter from Jeff Bayer and Tracy Conyer in downing Inkster Cathedral of Faith, 15-0. The duo struck out a total of 11 Inkster batters and were aided by the bats of Robert Nutt, who had two singles, and Richie Porter, Keith Johnson, and Jeff Nachtwien—each of whom had doubles. Darryl Soulet spoiled a no-hitter with the only hit for Inkster.

Larry Reid and John Vincel limited Inkster Cathedral to only one hit, a single by Bill Murphy, on Thursday in a 6-1 win. Reid helped his own cause with two hits, as did Bill Phillips, while Vincel had a home run to drive in two mates in his own behalf.

Lee's single star margin

Barry Lee singled following a two-out, two-base throwing error in the eighth inning last week to give the American Division an 8-7 victory over the National Division in the Wayne Class F All-Star baseball classic.

Jim Little, whose ground ball was booted with two out in the extra inning, seemed to be "Johnny-on-the-spot" most of the game. He scored the tying run after the Nationals had taken a 5-4 lead in the fifth, and tallied the first of two which again tied the score at 7-7 in the seventh inning. Lee drove in two runs.

Jim Rooney, Jerry Perusse, Charley Hall and Lee pitched for the American Division, which mounted a 10-hit barrage. Barry McEachern had two hits, while Eric Rakotz doubled. Also toiling for manager Bill Farmer were Jeff Blazer, Greg Katcher, James Allen, Phillip Snyder, Shaun Boyer, Steve Summers, Bill Truskowski, John Paz Bryan (Ace) Bailey, Richard Browne and Jim Nesbitt.

Keith Odom, Troy Lindon, Bryan Armstrong and Steve Jaskolski combined pitching talents for the National Division, which collected nine hits and battled right to the wire. Mike Pascarella and Norm Estes each had a double for the losers, while John Wilson drove in two runs.

Also playing for Manager Jim Cipriani were Alan Spencer, Keith Stubbs, Brian Mac, Eric Mac, Mike Buzzell, Mike LeBlanc, Jeff Shiffrd, Ricky Couch, Ken Kamin, Kevin Avis and Mike Tremonti.

Westland Stars top Wayne twice

Two all-star teams representing Westland Wayne-Ford Civic League took the measure of their Wayne recreation counterparts in games that annually close the season for the neighboring baseball programs.

Westland's Class F All-Stars defeated the Wayne All-Stars, 8-6, in a well-played contest, while the Wayne-Ford Civic League's Grapefruit All-Stars toppled Wayne, 12-1. Both games were played at the Wayne-Ford Civic Center park.

Tony Wilk's ground ball with the bases loaded eluded the Wayne infielders and scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to give Westland its 8-6 Class F margin. The winning runs scored moments after Bob Green, who led off the inning with a double, was cut down at the plate on a perfect throw in what would have been the go-ahead run.

Brian Hubbard, Tim Filary and Green each had two hits for Westland to aid the pitching combination of Amado Verona, Jamie Robertson, Hubbard, Wilk and Ken Aguzzi. The five Westland pitchers scattered six Wayne hits.

Eric Rakotz, the fifth Wayne pitcher and victim of Wilk's bad-hop winning blast, suffered the loss.

Duo holds Canton golf lead

John Tetsworth and Paul Oberhelman have held first place in the Canton Township Men's Golf League for most of the season, but the leaders must continually watch over their shoulders at the charging team of Mike Ryan and Robert White, who moved to within two and one-half points in recent weeks and are reluctant to wilt.

Both of the leading teams scored five points last week to bring Tetsworth-Oberhelman's total to 33½ points, while Ryan-White have 28½.

Tony Valenti carded the round of the week with a 65, leading he and partner into a tie for third place. Mike Kraft are tied with Carrigan-Mattingly and Wallace-Horrey —

Bryan Armstrong, Jim Little, Troy Lindon and Barry Lee also toiled on the mound for Wayne.

John Paz had two hits for the losers as he and Jim Allen each drove in two runs in an effort. Bryan Bailey, Armstrong and Shaun Boyer accounted for the other Wayne hits.

Other members of the Westland Wayne-Ford All-Stars included Matt Korte, Todd Duffield, Tony Delmonte, Steve Hodges, Dennis Smith, Tom Unold, Mike Lentini, Jim Armstrong, Al Pierce, Chris Rackwall, Neil Greenfield, Glenn Millard and Keith Bernick.

Other Wayne Class F All-Stars were Alan Spencer, Jeff Shifferd, John Wilson, Keith Odom, Mike Tremonti, Jim Rooney, Kevin Rodriguez, Richard Browne and Jim Nesbitt.

The quartet of Phillip Farrugi, Scott Neiman, Brad Martin and Roy Metwon combined for a sparkling three-hitter in sparkin the Wayne-Ford Civic League's Grapefruit All-Stars past Wayne, 12-1. Only a home run by Matt Pintar and singles by George Favazza and Steve Hartzler marred their near-perfect performance.

Westland scored in the first and each with 27 points. Tony Matson and Dominique Patalidis each had 38 scores.

Other teams to score a perfect five points were Watt-Karen, Lapierre-Agonis, Wallace-Horrey, Wilson-Slade, Matson-Melling and Patalidis-Seewald.

In the Canton Women's Golf League race, Chris Matson and Frankie McNutt claimed a perfect three points and moved into first place with a total of 5½ points. Previous leaders Mary Kay Frey and Helen McGee split the standings. Mary Moore had a 48 to lead the field, while Kay Nichols carded a 50 and Bev Green shot 51.

third innings on some heads-up baserunning, and then blew the game open with four runs in the fourth inning and three each in the fifth and sixth. Dave Waligora and John Armstrong each had two hits to drive in three runs apiece.

Phillip Coleman, Mark Hanson, Todd VanSickle and Tim Guest shared the mound duties for Wayne.

Also contributing to the Westland victory were Todd Beyer, Jimmy Acitell, Vince Grainer, Dave Byrd, Tavan Tucker, Errol Szokolay, Greg Murfin, Mark Browning, Shawn Cook, Jim Jakary, Ron Bushaw, Paul Oster, Mike Armstrong and Dave Willard.

Other members of the Wayne squad include Bobby McArthur, John Eberhart, Bobby Pascarella, Todd Kissel, Kevin Jones, Brent Wells, Nick Lanthier, John Blazer, Mike Hitchcock, Scott Marnon and Joe Toms.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE IS HELPING TO KILL ONE-SEVENTH OF AMERICA'S ADULTS. AND THEY DON'T EVEN KNOW IT.

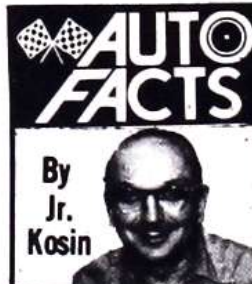

Every year, thousands of Americans die from heart disease, strokes and kidney failure caused by their High Blood Pressure. Most didn't know they had it. So see a doctor, or visit a clinic. It's a lot better to know if you have High Blood Pressure than to die from ignorance.

Jac's Lounge wins Wayne Class B title

By virtue of its own two victories and a couple of upsets handed its closest competitor, Jac's Lounge wrapped up the season title in the Wayne Class C Softball League, and began tuning up for the league playoffs. Jac's assured itself of the crown with a 12-3 triumph over Cobb's, and then rolled to a 13-1 win over Annapolis... boasting its season record to 15-2. Gary Niemczak banged out four hits to pace the Jac's win over Cobb's, while Dave Stearbaugh added three and Ken Sheldon chipped in a home run. Bill Coleman, who scattered eight hits, gained the pitching victory. Gary Druchniak had two hits in a losing effort. In the victory over Annapolis, Coleman allowed seven hits while his teammates collected 14. Niemczak again paced the attack with three hits, while Bob Wood and Bob McCarthy each added timely blasts. Kirk Caldwell and Jerry Luster led the Annapolis attack with Caldwell's homer the only run for the losers. Meanwhile, Cobb's and Woolf

The victors paraded nine batters to the plate in the first inning to spot winning pitcher Cheryl MaDean a 5-0 lead. Extra Point added a single tally in the third and added two more insurance runs in the fourth to cap the win. J & D, which unleashed a 17-hit attack earlier in the week to beat Extra Point and force the playoff game played tough Friday, pecking away at the Extra Point lead, but to no avail. Debbie Reid paced the winners with three hits, while Becky Brown had a home run. Barb Hull and Kathy Podgorny each chipped in two hits. Mary Porter blasted two hits and Cheryl Seltis belted a home run as J & D equaled Extra Point's 12-hit attack. Earlier in the week, Audry Gasdorf drove in five runs as J & D jumped off to a five-run second inning lead and added five more in the sixth for its 14-1 win over Extra Point. Beth Johnson and Gasdorf each had three hits, while Sue Johnson, Gay Diehl and Kathy Jacowitz each collected two. In other games last week, Extra Point topped Jake's Lounge, 11-3, and Mac's Tools, 9-6; J & D stunned Turner's Service, 13-1, and Mac's beat Turners, 15-7.

Among Belleville's top softballers

Whipping their National League counterparts 9-4, Belleville's American League Girls' All-Stars proved they're tops in the Belleville-Van Buren Junior Baseball Association. Members of the team flash smiles and trophies after their victory. Metro keeps title hopes alive

Canton 'C' race goes down to wire

closer to the title with a convincing 20-4 victory over Geneva Church as Hank Greshaw had a night he probably won't forget. Hank hit for the cycle, slamming a single, double, triple and a home run, good for seven RBIs. Teammate Joe Daratony also had a fine performance with two home runs. Ovidon's John Korpus also helped the winning cause with four hits in five at bats. Geneva's Joe Barns slammed a home run and a single. Teammate Roy Rennolds also chipped in with two safeties.

(Continued from Page 1) off the inning with a walk, stole second and advanced all the way home on a catcher's throwing error, then Vincel drilled a homer to tie the game. Larry Vojtkofsky kept the Wayne rally going with a single and moved to third when Chris Truskowski was safe on an error. An interference by the third baseman allowed Vojtkofsky to score and moved Truskowski to third and he scored on a sacrifice fly. Then, Wayne I ran up against Wayne II and held on to win a cliffhanger 3-2. Leading 3-0 going into the sixth inning, Wayne I saw its advantage diminish as Wayne II struck for two runs. Porter held on for the win as he tossed a three hitter, struck out 12 and walked two. Reid, Truskowski and Raines accounted for all of the loser's hits while Nutt collected two singles and Hartford, Spaw and Solarz each got one for the winners.

Wayne I scored its first run in the second inning when Spaw doubled, went to third on a wild pitch and came home on Solarz' single. Wayne I added two more in the fifth when Hartford got aboard on a fielder's choice, stole second, and went to third on a passed ball. He then scored on Pitt's sacrifice fly. Wayne II went into the last inning needing one run to stay alive but pitcher Richie Porter struck out the three batters he faced to preserve his victory. In the league's only other game, Wayne SWAT overpowered Inkster Cathedral 13-1.

crushed Wayne 17-3 in the first game, while Westland's 13-17 year age group also breezed to victory, 15-4. In the first game, Wayne jumped to a 1-0 first inning lead, but the Westlanders came back and tied it up in the top of the second, then took the lead for good in the third with a three-run spurt. The winners put three runs on the board in the fifth and two more in the sixth and seventh innings, then exploded for five more in the eighth. Laura Hayes had an excellent day at the plate as she drilled a homer, single and triple and batted in four runs for the winners. Teammate Karen Syabik hammered three singles — good for two hits, while Maureen Strehl also chipped in three hits and three RBIs. Laura Karznia and Cindy Burnie shared pitching duties for Wayne, each going four innings. Teri Belander led the loser's attack with two hits while Theresa Mulholland doubled and Sally Wineberg accounted for a run-scoring single. In the older circuit, Westland leaped on losing pitcher Beth Tracey for four runs in the first inning but Wayne rallied for three in the second. After Westland put two runs on the board in the bottom of the second, it was all Westland after that. Westland pounded the final nail in Wayne's coffin with a seven-run seventh inning. Faye Pizzuti belted a two-run homer for the winners while mates Cesarz, Knight, and Barber each drove in runs with singles. Mary Brewis collected two hits off of winning hurler Knight who also gave up singles to Lori Hathorne, Lisa Hathorne, Sharon Tourou and Mary Ingsus.
